

HUNDREDS OF DETECTIVES GUARD THE PRESIDENT

POLICE GUARD THE CHIEF Fear Assassination.

Hundreds of Detectives Surround Roosevelt in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 10.—President Roosevelt's train arrived at the Chicago and Northwestern depot a few minutes after noon and was met by Graeme Stewart, and others, members of the reception committee.

President Roosevelt and party started for the Auditorium annex. President Roosevelt was given a hearty welcome by Governor Deneen, Mayor Dunne, delegations from the Merchants, the Hamilton and the Iroquois clubs, a number of aldermen and other city officials.

STREETS LINED.
The streets through which the President's carriage passed were lined with police and men in uniform and plain clothes mingled with the crowd everywhere.

There were 150 policemen along the drive from the Northwestern depot to the Auditorium and an equal number in the parade from the hotel to the Hamilton Club. In addition to these there were over fifty detectives, who followed the President's carriage and watched the crowds closely for any disturbances.

WELL GUARDED.
Chief of Police O'Neill preceded the President's procession in a carriage and personally supervised the arrangements and saw that the streets were clear. In the advance of the line of carriages were fifty mounted police, the pick of the department.

DETECTIVES ON HAND.
Behind the President's carriage rode eight detective sergeants in two carriages. They were the President's personal bodyguard. This body guard was chosen by Chief O'Neill. They wore silk hats and Prince Albert coats.

POLICE BY SCORE.
One hundred and fifty policemen guarded the depot upon the arrival of the President, and seventy-five men were stationed in the streets around the depot, keeping the crowds in line and ready as a reserve force in case of any disturbance.

Another squad of 150 men had command of the Auditorium hotel and vicinity.

Although the route had been kept secret and the streets cleared for a block from the station, the police cordoning lining certain streets gave the crowd sufficient clue.

The sidewalks along the line of march were packed solidly with people, for the most part workmen, men and women's faces were seen.

There was no demonstration of any kind, but good will along the entire route.

Many of the buildings were decorated with flags while other flags were waved by the workers within.

AVOIDED ELEVATED RAILWAYS.
The route taken to the hotel was almost the only one by which the President could have reached there without passing under the elevated railways numerous times. This was avoided by the police arrangements, which were carried out admirably.

SECRET SERVICE MEN.
Closely following the President's carriage was another filled with secret service men. Hardly had the President's carriage stopped at the entrance of the Auditorium Annex when President Roosevelt, tanned and smiling, stepped briskly to the sidewalk, followed by Governor Deneen, Mayor Dunne and Charles H. Wacker. The President was greeted with cheers from the crowds massed along the street and overflowing into Grant

DR. EWER WINS THE PRIZE.

Named Health Officer—Mayor Turns Down Dan Doody For Ed Planer.

THE NEW HEALTH OFFICER, DR. EDWARD N. EWER, WHO WAS APPOINTED TO SUCCEED DR. VON ADELUNG, BY MAYOR MOTT, TODAY. —Photo Bushnell.

Below will be found the members of the Board of Health and the appointments which will be made tonight when the new board meets to organize.

Mayor Mott made the announcement of the three new doctors today that are to compose the Board of Health for the next two years. The retiring members of the Board of Health are Dr. S. H. Buteau, Dr. A. L. Cunningham and Dr. J. Hamilton Todd. The new appointees are Drs. Adams, Sill and Williams.

POLITICAL SENSATION
The announcement of Mayor Mott and the prospective changes has caused a profound political sensation.

It was conceded on all sides that Dr. Von Adelung would be removed from office by Mayor Mott.

MAYOR SILENT
Mayor Mott has nothing to say as to the appointments. Every one around the city hall was apparently familiar with the new appointments, while Mayor Mott was still in total darkness.

The only response he would make to an inquiry was: "You will have to ask Dr. Adams."

NEW PRESIDENT.
This remark may be interpreted that Dr. Adams will be the president of the new board, otherwise Mayor Mott would not have advised his interlocutors to question him.

Ever since Mayor Mott was elected two months ago the sole theme of discussion among politicians has been who will the secretary of the Board of Health be?

NEW SECRETARY.
The majority of the City Council asked Mayor Mott to re-appoint Doody. As late as noon today President Fitzgerald of the Council was interceding for Doody. Mott said that he was sorry, but that it was one of those things in which he had to be turned one way and that he thought the appointment of Eddie Planer was the least harmful way he could turn.

THE PHYSICIANS.
The personnel of the new health board is of the highest. Dr. Frank L. Adams has been the president of the Medical Association of the State. He has also been health officer and member of the Board of Health of this city on a previous occasion.

Dr. Sill is one of the oldest practitioners of the city and is highly respected by the profession of which he is a member.

WILL TOGO GIVE HIM BATTLE

Waiting For Fight.

Russians Believe He Will Avoid An Open Sea Engagement.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 10.—Much satisfaction was expressed at the Admiralty at the uniting of the divisions of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron. Experts calculating that the Russian Admiral now enjoys a superiority over his adversary of twenty-five per cent of the ships of the line.

The impression here is that it will require a week for Nebogatoff to come and get everything shipshape for the final stage of the journey to Vladivostok. Admiral Togo is expected to decline an open battle.

ORDER SHIPS TO LEAVE

SAIGON, Cochinchina, May 10.—The Russian cruiser Jemchoug and the Russian auxiliary cruiser Rion, belonging to Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, arrived at Cape St. James near here during the night of May 8 and left yesterday morning at the request of the Governor of French Indo-China.

COUNT CASSINI GOES TO SPANISH CAPITAL.

Baron Rosen Will Represent the Czar at Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador to this country, has been transferred to Madrid. He will be succeeded here by Baron Rosen, until recently Russian Minister at Tokio. Count Cassini was offered the Ambassadorship to Madrid two months ago, and accepted it. He will leave in June for his new post.

CATCHES ROBBER

Daylight Thief Surprised in Act By a Jeweler.

E. M. Lipka, a jeweler and pawnbroker at 341 Broadway, this morning surprised a man who gives the name of Charles E. Nelson in the act of robbing his store.

Lipka placed the intruder under arrest and turned him over to Police-man McSorley.

When Nelson was searched at the city prison he resembled a walking jewelry store.

He had on him forty-one watch chains, thirteen assorted watches, cuff buttons, and other small articles of value.

The daylight robbery was made possible by Lipka leaving his store unguarded for a few moments.

The jeweler went across the street on an errand and when he returned he encountered Nelson in the store.

The thief pretended to be under the influence of liquor, but this ruse did not deter Lipka from placing him under arrest.

Even after his arrest Nelson still pretended to be under the influence of liquor, but this ruse did not deter Lipka from placing him under arrest.

CRISIS APPROACHING

TOKIO, May 10. (Noon).—The government maintains its reserve, but the Indo-Chinese situation seems to be rapidly approaching a crisis. Following the repeated assurance of Foreign Minister Delcasse that the second Russian Pacific squadron would be ordered out of French territorial waters, the navy department has received reliable information that a portion of the Russian squadron was lying in Hon-Koo Bay on the morning of May 6.

It is generally believed that the third Russian squadron will use French waters to coal, receive supplies, and clean the ships' bottoms, and it is difficult to predict future events.

The government is asked to accept the assurance of France that the Russian squadron is in outside waters and to act accordingly.

The agitation against France, commercially, is growing despite the repressive influences at work upon the part of the government, and a boycott resolution may yet reach a vote in the Chamber of Commerce.

GIVES PRAISE TO GRAND ARMY

PRESIDENT SAYS THAT IT IS TO VETERANS THAT CREDIT IS DUE.

CHICAGO, May 10.—On the way to Chicago the President made three speeches in Illinois today, one at Dixon, one at Sterling and one at DeKalb. His remarks at Sterling were as follows:

"In greeting all of you, I know that the others will not object to my saying a special word of acknowledgment to the men of the Grand Army. It is to them that we owe the fact that we have a country at all. My comrades of the Grand Army, I want to say something that I know will please you. I have just come back from a trip in the course of which I went through the State of Texas, and you would feel more than justified for your efforts to have once more made this nation whole if you could see how completely whom it was, for the veterans who wore the blue and the veterans who had worn the grey stood there, shoulder to shoulder, to greet the President of their common country."

At DeKalb the President said: "Our people have risen and will rise because they have taken care of both sides of the development of the national character, because your farms and factories prosper and because you also take care of the school and the library, and build on the foundation of material well being the superstructure of the higher life."

"The first thing a man has to do is to earn enough to take care of himself and his family. There is no use of expecting much of him if he cannot pull his own weight. He has got to be able to do that first, and having done that, then let him also try to be a good neighbor and a good citizen."

MEDICAL MEN MEET

SANTA BARBARA, May 10.—The California State Homoeopathic Medical Society met here this morning at the Potter Hotel in annual convention which will continue three days. The opening meeting was called to order this morning by President S. S. Salisbury. The annual reports of officers followed. Fifty prominent medical men from different parts of the State and representatives of a number of homoeopathic institutions are in attendance. Many of the doctors are accompanied by their wives and families, and a number of pleasant social features have been arranged. One will be a banquet at the Potter Hotel Thursday evening.

APPOINTED RECEIVER.

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—Judge McPherson in the United States Circuit Court today appointed J. Hector McNeill of this city receiver for the brokerage establishment of Haight & Freese Company.

MY LAST TERM IN OFFICE

Says the President.

He Will Not Again Be a Candidate For Presidency.

OMAHA, May 10.—The Bee quotes President Roosevelt as making the emphatic statement that he will not be a candidate for President. It says:

"You are authorized to state that I will not again be a candidate for the office of President of the United States. There are no strings on this statement, I mean it. I made my speech in Denver for the purpose of convincing the people of my earnestness in relation to the matter of railroad legislation. I will not be satisfied with any compromise that does not bring relief to the people from the conditions that now exist in relation to transportation affairs in the country. No compromise bill from Congress will be accepted."

This is President Roosevelt's reply to a reporter of the Bee on his special train as it journeyed across Nebraska. Published statements to the effect that the President will be forced to accept a renomination by the people who would be aroused to that pitch by the failure of Congress to enact remedial legislation, was shown him. He expressed himself most emphatically that he was not to be swayed from his determination by any advances that might be made to him, no matter in what disguise they came.

BOMBS AND DYNAMITE

ST. PETERSBURG, May 10.—The Social Democrats declare that their program includes demonstrations throughout Russia on Sunday and that they are provided with bombs and dynamite with which to fight the troops if the latter interfere.

The purpose of the Social Democrats evidently is to make trouble, but everywhere precautionary measures have been taken and the authorities are convinced that the disorders will be comparatively insignificant and that they easily will be suppressed.

The cool-headed Liberals are counselling the workmen against useless bloodshed.

ALL WORK IN HARMONY FOR OAKLAND

City Officials Give Banquet to the Republican Central Committee.

Last night Mayor Mott, City Engineer Turner and City Treasurer Bates and City Auditor Breed signified their success at the polls at the last city election by assembling as their guests around the banquet board in the Athenian Club, the members of the City Council, the Republican City Central Committee, which had managed the last local campaign and members of the Oakland press. This was done that they might, with the Councilmen, talk the battle over and, at the same time, pay a debt of gratitude, as they understood it, to the committee in question and the press, to whose consistent and energetic efforts, they credited their success at the polls.

EVENING OF PLEASURE.

The idea, happily conceived, was carried out to the letter and afforded hosts and guests an evening of merriment, sentiment and harmony, which last-mentioned quality, was declared to be the slogan of the present municipal government for the next two years.

This essential harmony, it was shown, characterized the efforts of the Republican City Central Committee in its conduct of the last campaign and, for this, that organization was commended by the hosts and other successful officials. The members of the committee ascribed this excellent state of affairs to the remarkable leadership of their chairman, Frank Bilger, and, in the name of both themselves and the officials-elect, presented that gentleman with a scarf-pin of diamonds and pearls worthy a prince. Incidentally, a quiet tribute was paid to the public services of the late ex-Councilman Cuvelier by Mayor Mott and his memory was drunk in silence.

HOSTS AND GUESTS.

Those present were: Mayor, Mott, City Engineer Turner, City Treasurer Bates, City Auditor Breed, President Fitzgerald of the City Council, Councilmen Meese, Aitken, Pendleton, Elliot, Burns, Baccus; G. B. Daniels, Enquirer; Edward A. O'Brien, TRIBUNE; T. C. Masteller, Chronicle; F. W. Jones, Herald; O. H. Fernbach, Examiner; Paul Goldsmith, Call; A. P. Stelfox, Bulletin; R. H. Danforth, Times.

The Mayor stated that W. E. Dargie of THE TRIBUNE was unable to be present owing to business in San Francisco and a letter from J. C. Kline of the Herald was read to the effect that he, also, was prevented from being in attendance. The other guests were: Frank Bilger, Clinton G. Dodge, Alex. Marx, Clarence Crowell, John Herr, Joseph Coughlin, Ed. Planer, J. J. Connolly, E. T. Tyrrell, Wm. Bradshaw, F. M. Hathaway, Charles H. Klinkner, E. M. Derby and Andy E. Johnstone.

THE MENU.

The feast was as follows:
Blue Points on the Half Shell,
Consomme in Cups,
Olives, Pecans and Almonds
Cana Lorenza's la Athenian Club
Roast Squab and Chicken
Potatoes Duchesse, New Peas
Romanian Salad, French Dressing,
Neapolitan Ice Cream,
Lady Fingers, Macaroons,
Requiem Cheese a la Mode.

There was also an untiring supply of red and white wines and champagne and many libations were poured during the course of the evening.

THE TOASTMASTER.

Mayor Mott acted as toastmaster and discharged the duties of that office in a very capable manner.

"We have assembled here tonight," he said, "in the name of and in the interest of the Republican party and in honor of the Republican City Central Committee, with the City Council as special guests and members of the press.

"It is very fitting that we should gather as good fellows to pay our respects and tribute to a number of people who have helped in the recent success at the polls. We do this, not only as a tribute to them, but in honor of the Republican party and its achievements. Yet, not so much on account of the achievements of that party as because of what it proposes to do in the future.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE.
"I do not believe in relying always on what we have done and what is in the past, but what we propose to do and what we can do.

"In the recent campaign we referred frequently to the standing of the Republican party in the nation and what it represented in national affairs and we said that the Republican party, if entrusted with the power of government, would give the people of Oakland as good government as is now being given the nation at Washington.

"Since then the party has been successful at the polls and we have been launched on a career of city government and, as far as I have been able to observe, the purpose of the local government is on as high a plane as that which animates the government at the capital of the nation.

EXALTED PRINCIPLES.

"At the opening of the last campaign, although there were some who were not for the Republican national ticket, still there was some who could not practice the principle of Roosevelt, and the exalted nature of these principles are the object and the high purpose of the present administration. If we follow in the footsteps and the practices of the Executive of the nation and the high citizenship of which he is an exemplar, we surely shall not fail. We should be able to give the people of Oakland a government that will improve the city. We will be able to give them a government which will meet with their approval.

GENERALS AND LEADERS.

"There are such people who are known as generals, and wherever there is success there must be generalship. The Republican party, in the late campaign, had a committee to manage its affairs so that, with one exception, all our candidates were elected.

"There were some men who gave more time to the success of the party than even the candidates and I have now in mind the chairman of the Republican City Central Committee—Frank Bilger. (Cheers.)

"We all know how, at the sacrifice of business and private interests, he devoted days and nights to the outcome of the municipal election. There was no time that he was not on deck. I am sure that not only the present officers, but also the Republican party of the city of Oakland, owe him a great debt of duty. I now propose a toast to the Republican City Central Campaign Committee and will ask J. J. Connolly to respond." (Cheers.)

PRESENTATION.

J. J. Connolly was then received with cheers. "It is certainly a pleasure," he said, "to respond to the toast of the Republican City Central Campaign Committee. As a member, and I feel it to be an honor to be a member of that committee, I desire to say that the committee was always up and doing. As the Mayor has said, the chairman of that committee was a general among men and Mr. Bilger certainly proved himself a general when the campaign closed.

"Now Mr. Bilger, in behalf of the Republican City Central Committee, as also in behalf of Messrs. Mott, Bates, Turner and Breed, we desire to show appreciation of your noble, honest and unselfish work. In behalf also of the Republican party, I beg leave to present to you this little testimonial to remind you of the many pleasant hours we have spent together in the last campaign." (Cheers.)

The speaker then handed to Mr. Bilger a magnificent scarf-pin with a pearl surrounded with a cluster of diamonds.

BILGER'S THANKS.

Frank Bilger, in accepting the gift said: "Words almost fail to express the satisfaction I feel of having been chosen your chairman, but let me say that, from the beginning, at no time and in no matter, did I see an act of discord. I believed and acted accordingly that every member was with me in heart and soul. I have been actuated only by the welfare of the city. I have had only the good and advancement of the city of Oakland at heart. Every member had a good word for Oakland and every member of the committee was with me. No act of discord ever took place and, consequently, I hardly know what to say. This committee was characterized by respect for the chairman and worked with him and were always found to act with me to help to secure the success of the Republican party at the polls. Of all who were nominated, there was only one nominee of the ticket who was not elected. But we have an honest administration and believe that it will be successful. We are certain to have a successful administration if we act as the Committee did in the past campaign. This city can not amount to anything unless it is pushed ahead by the Republican party. It is going ahead too fast and can not be stopped by any tidal wave because we are moving onward. Let me say you have my heartfelt thanks for the harmonious manner in which you acted while I was chairman of your committee." (Cheers.)

mittee." (Cheers.)

THE PRESIDENT.

"The President of the United States" was ably responded to by Councilman Elliot in a manner which brought the hearers to their feet with ringing cheers for the chief executive of the Nation.

Mr. Elliot prefaced his effort with several funny stories which caused a roar to extend around the table and then said:

"For long years, the United States was bounded by a ridge of mountains and the seething boiling Atlantic. In those days, the Atlantic coast furnished the presidents of the United States. We are a people who look not for a czar as Russia, or an emperor as in China or Japan or a king as in England, but we elect a man who warms in the breast of the common people. We do not elect those who base their claim upon the divine rights of kings. We recognize no aristocracy of birth or prestige. We elect those who are of the people and from the people.

MAN OF THE PRAIRIE.

"When our country began to encroach on the vast land stretching between the rough and expansive Pacific, we looked around for a man who should represent the broad expansive life of the West. We chose Theodore Roosevelt, a man schooled in the life of the West. The Republican Party chose him. He had the breath of the prairie in his nostrils. His heart was broad. His soul was big. No provincialism narrowed his efforts. He was an American with our breadth of view and our young enthusiasm and Alameda county rolled up a big majority for our Republican President, the President of the whole people, East and West. I commend our President. I commend our bear-hunting and bob-cat hunting President. Long may he live as the President of California, Maine, the East and West." (Enthusiastic cheers.)

GOVERNOR PARDEE.

G. B. Daniels of the Enquirer spoke to the toast of "The Governor of the State." After an informal, pleasant introductory, Mr. Daniels said that Governor Pardee was a native of California and that there was no person who knew every foot of ground of the State as well as the Governor did. While the Governor was a professional gentleman, he was certainly giving the people a business administration. There were none of his critics who would deny that statement.

"While," continued Mr. Daniels, "his health is such today that he should take a rest after the fatigue and exhaustion of the last Legislature, still he stays within his office to clear up his hours of hard work.

HOURS OF HARD WORK.

"The Governor gives more hours of real hard work to California than he did to his profession. While it has been personal that he has been providing for personal friends in Alameda county and the appointees have been called the 'Alameda Dynasty,' I take it that the balance of the State will concede that every part of the State has been considered.

"Alameda county is close to him, and Oakland is the closest of all, and when the recent balloting resulted in a Republican administration here, no one was better pleased, that the Governor of California, not only because of his friendship for Oakland but also for the present administration.

"I never have a conference with him that he does not ask about the present growth of Oakland and Alameda county. Our friend, the Mayor, has the Governor's best wishes and he promises such assistance and support as the Governor of the State may give." (Cheers.)

CITY OF OAKLAND.

Councilman Meese spoke for Oakland. He said he believed the present administration would do a great deal for the city, and if it worked in harmony a great deal would surely be accomplished.

PRESIDENT FITZGERALD.

President Fitzgerald of the City Council was called to respond to the toast to that body. "In behalf of the present City Council," he said, "I desire to say that the nominees elected by the Republicans of Oakland have no apology to make at any time."

"The people had so endorsed the nominees as to show that no mistake had been made and the Council would show this by standing by the Mayor in such a manner as to show much needed improvements throughout the city.

AUDITOR BREED.

City Auditor Breed spoke upon "The Republican Party of Oakland." "In the language of the Mayor," he said, "this is the happiest moment of my life. I am certainly glad to see the good feeling which is developing. I think I am the oldest City Central Committeeman. Mr. Crowell is next in the Republican County Committee. As office-holders we are certainly to be congratulated because of the working in harmony of the committee of the party, led by Frank Bilger.

"I certainly feel like rendering personal thanks to Mr. Bilger and the Republican City Central Committee for the efficient work they did in the past campaign.

"We are certainly to be congratulated because of the election of the present Mayor, as he is not only living here, but he has also his business here. I certainly predict a splendid administration, and even if he puts in a claim for this banquet, I think I shall have to honor it." (Laughter and applause.)

COUNTY COMMITTEE.

Clarence Crowell spoke for the Republican County Central Committee and among other things said:

"President Roosevelt has said that California is a great State. Governor Pardee has said that Alameda is a great county. Mayor Mott has said that Oakland is a great city, and I endorse what all of them have said, because the statement of such men is entitled to consideration. I believe that Oakland is a city of progress and that the present administration will show that it is a city of progress."

The speaker then said that the position of Central Committeeman was one requiring great effort and patience. He knew that no man who had not served in such a capacity could appreciate the trouble and responsibility of such a position. He had been a county committeeman for ten years and knew the responsibility assumed by such a committeeman during a campaign.

"The County Central Committee of Alameda county," continued the speaker, "is one of the greatest institutions I know of. (Laughter.) Up to and including the day before the late city election, it was the greatest in California—(laughter)—but since that time we are willing to do honor to the City Central Committee. Harmony and concert of action are necessary for the success of a campaign and such have characterized the work of the committee in the city campaign and this will have a fine effect upon committees of the future.

"If our candidates would do the same by us that your candidates are doing for you, we would have other reasons to be appreciative of the Republican City Central Committee of Oakland." (Laughter and applause.)

THE PRESS.

Paul Goldsmith of The Call responded to the toast of "The Press." The press, he said, could do much and did do much for municipalities and campaigns and for those who were elected to office. It should not be forgotten, however, that while the press could do a great deal of good, it could not always lead. News had to be written and news had to be at some times about officials. These editorials had sometimes to be based on the acts of officials and those editorials had to be favorable or otherwise to officials according as those officials discharged the duties of their respective offices.

LONG WITH THE PENCIL.

"I have been," continued the speaker, "in the newspaper business in this city a great many years. I have been longer in the newspaper business than any of you have been in public life. I have seen many administrations come and go. I have the highest hopes for the success of the present city administration. I have great confidence in all branches of it. Some of its officers are men tried and successful in the positions they hold.

BUSINESS LINES.

"I think the administration is going to get down to hard business lines. Some of its attaches who have had experience in dealing with public affairs will aim to help those who have not.

MEN PAST AND FUTURE.

"I can remember the time when some men ran the politics of this city. Most of them are gone. Many are dead. A few have gone up to higher places in the State. You have got to take their places. Some were your schoolmates. You have stepped into their shoes. I believe that some of you are going to step up to higher places in the State and nation. I would like to see you advance to the position of Governor, perhaps to a member of the Cabinet from this State. I believe it possible for all young men to do this.

COMPLIMENTED BY VOTE.

"I cast a vote for the Mayor thinking to compliment him and I think I paid one to myself in voting for a ticket composed mostly of my friends, and in voting for a ticket which showed the confidence which the people reposed in it. I believe it will be shown that that vote and confidence have never been misplaced." (Cheers.)

THE SCHOOLS.

F. M. Hathaway spoke to the sentiment of "The Public Schools of Oakland" and told several amusing stories. He was the storm-center of a number of bright young men who formed a coterie, which enjoyed, to the utmost, the spirit of the moment.

AESTHETICISM.

Councilman Pendleton was asked to speak on "Aestheticism," but turned his attention, instead, to practical matters. "We have got to have," he said, "concerted harmony in the Council and Board of Public Works. As far as one Councilman can go, I am willing to work for the success of this administration. We can always work not only to elect certain men, but also to put good men into office. The last administration did all it could to accomplish a great deal for this city and the Council and citizens this time will do all they can to back up the administration of Mayor Mott." (Cheers.)

CLINTON G. DODGE.

Clinton G. Dodge spoke eloquently on the successes of the Republican City Central Committee, and in part said:

"For three terms and during a period of nearly five years, it has been both a pleasure and an honor to me to be a member of the Republican City Central Committee of this city.

"During that time most of the candidates nominated by the Republican party for municipal offices have been successful and, while not all of them have lived up to or fulfilled our expectations, the great majority have labored honestly and earnestly for the upbuilding of our city and for the exemplification of the best principles of the Republican party.

CAUSE OF REGRET.

"For a longer period of time than I speak of, it has been a matter of regret that a number of Republicans who have always been devotedly loyal to the Republican party in national affairs have, with the very best of motives in our municipal campaigns, broken away from the parent organization and attached themselves to an independent movement. From the inception of that movement it has been my contention and the contention of a great many Republicans, that whatever reforms were necessary within our municipal Republican organization could, by a proper effort, be accomplished as well within the ranks of our party as by any independent party.

NATION AND CITY.

"If the Republican party in the nation is competent to administer the government in the masterly manner that has brought and reflected so much credit and honor upon our country and party, there is no good or just reason why, in our municipal affairs, the Republican party should not stand united for policies and men that will reflect honor and credit upon our local organization and upon our now progressive city.

"Working along these lines it is a matter of gratification to the members of the Republican City Central Committee to see, in the last municipal campaign, with but a single exception, all of their candidates successful; a result that places our local organization upon the same high plane and standard as the National Republican party. We of the committee feel justly proud that we have, in some measure elected a body of city officials in whom the people of this community have the utmost confidence. While many causes contributed to the result attained, we know whereof we speak, that not the least potent among them were the untiring efforts and the splendid personality of our chairman, Frank W. Bilger. May the same success follow the efforts of our successful candidates and now our representatives for the upbuilding and the betterment of our beautiful city of Oakland." (Cheers.)

The honor of responding to "The Ladies" was divided between City Treasurer Bates and Joe Coughlin, who proved eloquent gallants in every sense of the word.

At the suggestion of Mr. Bates, a cup was drunk in honor of Richard B. Ayer, chief clerk in the City Treasurer's office.

FRANK BILGER.

Mayor Mott then called on Frank Bilger for some more remarks and the latter replied:

"What is Oakland today? Oakland is bounded on the north by the city of Berkeley, on the east by Brooklyn Township, and on the west and south by the Bay of San Francisco. Have we any prospects? I believe we have. In beginning, I want to say we have paid our esteemed executive, now occupying the chair, the highest honor that the citizens of this great city can bestow on any man of Oakland. Has he any prospects? I believe he has. He started out in an humble way. He was first in a modest business away down on Broadway. He climbed. He is now one of us. Is this not progress? I believe it is.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION.

"He asked me one day: 'Frank, will you be committeeman from the Fifth ward?' I said that so long as I could not be the representative of the Seventh Ward, I would be committeeman from the Fifth Ward. He said: 'One more thing, Frank, we want to have a distinctly business administration.' On that committee, nearly every member was a business man.

"That committee endeavored to give the kind of work which a business man would lead out to an employee who desired to do business with him.

ELECT BUSINESS MEN.

"I believe that committee did its utmost to elect business men and they enabled business men to climb to the top. I believe, with the Mayor, who has learned by experience, that we ought to look to everything that will give us a business administration.

QUESTION OF SUPPORT.

"Shall we support him? That central committee was composed of thirteen members, one of the most unlucky numbers it is possible to select, but they supported him man to man, shoulder to shoulder, one compact mass. They elected all the candidates with but one exception on the Republican ticket.

"For the administration, I predict a great success. We look for the time when the boundary of Oakland on the north will be the Contra Costa county line; the eastern will be Eden Township, and that it will be bounded on the west and south by the Bay of San Francisco.

WELFARE OF CITY.

"I have had the welfare of the city at heart for twenty years. It is possible for her to forge ahead. We need no dictation from San Francisco. We ourselves can make a magnificent Oakland.

BERKELEY AND ALAMEDA.

"I believe, before many years, Berkeley and Alameda will knock at our doors and ask that we take them in. If we carry out this project, will the greater Oakland become a spot on the map of the United States? I believe it will.

"We have a man in the Cabinet of the President at Washington, and we have a man in Sacramento. These are of us and more men may follow them from their former homes.

READY TO SERVE.

"If it is within my province to serve you again, I hope I will have the same committee to give its support to make this city one of the great cities of the future. We have our water-front and the proper spirit in every voter. It's in him and he can't shake it.

"Mayor Mott is, without doubt, a business man and I know what he has undertaken. Let us all unite in getting business men for office so that we will be a credit all over the United States, that when Metcalf comes back from Washington, he will say 'You shine among men.' We look for you to do this for us, a thing that was never done before.

CONGLOMERATE PROPOSALS.

"I don't believe we should throw at the people, conglomerate propositions for improvements for which they can not vote, for the purpose of making them vote for things they don't want to get one thing they do want. They will not support proposition of that kind." (Applause.)

The prosperity of Oakland was then drunk standing.

CITY ENGINEER TURNER.

City Engineer Turner then thanked the committee for the willing and kindly act they had performed in managing the campaign and the work they had accomplished in the election of himself and his associates. The best of proof, he thought, they could give of their appreciation of the efforts of the committee was to so discharge the duties of their respective offices as to show that they felt a sense of the responsibilities they had assumed and that they would be true to the trust and carry it out in the best and most zealous manner possible. He could not, he said, express his sense of the responsibility assumed but he would endeavor to carry out the pledges made before election.

Mr. Turner's effort was warmly appreciated.

SCHILLER ANNIVERSARY.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Impressive ceremonies have brought to a close the festival with which the German Americans of Chicago have been commemorating the hundredth anniversary of the death of Friedrich Schiller.

The Auditorium was the scene of the final program, which an audience of 4,000 people, Mayor Dunne among them, followed with enthusiasm. After Hans von Schiller's orchestra had played Beethoven's "Dedication of the House," the official representative of the King of Wurtemberg, Major-General Albert von Pfister, of Stuttgart, delivered an address.

A cablegram was sent expressing the thanks and good will of Chicago's Germans to the King of Wurtemberg.

Herr Scheffer-Steinwarts, secretary of the German Embassy at Washington, spoke as the representative of Emperor Wilhelm, expressing the sentiment of friendship which this mutual worship of Schiller had created between Germany and the United States.

CHARGES AGAINST A SKIPPER.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 10.—Charges have been forwarded to Ottawa by Captain Johnstone of the river steamer Mount Royal, through the Marine Service Guild of Victoria, alleging that Captain Bonser, a rival skipper of the Hazelton, deliberately and maliciously rammed his vessel on the Skeena river, and also at a past date performed a similar act on the Fraser river. Further charges have been made that Captain Bonser endeavored to induce one of his crew to remove aids to navigation in order to precipitate disaster to a rival vessel.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing diseases for over thirty-five years. Write protection to you is our name on the wrapper. Look for it on all Dr. King's or Bucklen's remedies. There are many more imitations. H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Canada.

THE LATEST NEWS OF THE DAY=4:30 P. M.

WILL SELL
THE STOCK

Receiver Takes Charge of the Affairs of
T. B. Coghill.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—For the purpose of settling the affairs of the former wholesale grocery firm of Coghill & Kohn, who were in business on Front street, Judge Seawell of the Superior Court, this morning appointed his clerk, Frank Gimes, custodian of the firm's property, with the power of a receiver. Gimes will furnish a bond of $20,000. His selection was made because the attorneys in the suit brought by Thomas B. Coghill of Oakland against George A. Kohn for the appointment of a receiver were unable to agree on a man.

There is now about $1,000 of the stock of the firm left in storage with another wholesale grocery firm, there are outstanding bills aggregating about $12,000, and the concern has $3,000 in a bank. Gimes takes possession of everything and will make it his business to sell the stock and collect the bills, turning the money into cash as he receives it. It is expected there will be some difficulty in disposing of the stock because it consists of odds and ends left after the best had been picked out and disposed of.

It is the first time that Adams assumed a sensational aspect recently when the bookkeeper, Forceman, made an affidavit that he had been induced to make false entries by Kohn. This charge Kohn strenuously denied, and charges and countercharges floated between the partners when they faced each other in court. Finally it was stipulated that the attorneys agree on a custodian, but they were no more in that respect than when they were in court.

MARQUIS DENIES STORY

PARIS, May 10.—The Marquis de Bartholmey, who, with Count de Pourtales, operates the French concession at Kamranh Bay, Annam, in the course of an interview today denies that his establishment furnished coal or provisions to the Russian Second Pacific squadron. He said:

"The maximum of our coal facilities is 700 tons. This is an insignificant quantity for the fifty-two warships of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, which establishes the fact that we could not recede the squadron."

"Concerning the charge that the squadron secured coal at Saigon the fact is that a small coal depot exists on the Mekong river, not far from Saigon. At the outset of the war the Russians bought a large tract of land there, erected sheds and accumulated supplies, particularly coal, which was bought originally from Japan. It is to this depot that Admiral Rojestvensky sent his coilers, but no warship approached the depot. This was Russian coal, placed upon Russian land and loaded upon Russian transports. This was no violation of neutrality. France could not prevent the Russians from taking their own coal on their own land. If the natives were at fault in selling the land to the Russians the Japanese would not have waited fifteen months before protesting."

Although the Marquis de Bartholmey gives the foregoing explanation of the charges the settlement concerning the Russian coal depot on the Mekong may open a new phase of the question.

Admiral Dejeunieres, the French naval commander at Saigon, confirms the announcement of the departure of the Russian squadron from off Vangpang bay. He says he saw the Russian vessels well off the coast under full steam.

The officials here say the French admiral's report relieves the seriousness of the situation with Japan as the departure of the squadron was what Japan asked for.

The report of the junction of Rear Admiral Nebogotoff's division with the main Russian squadron under Admiral Rojestvensky outside of French waters is also considered official. This avers serious apprehensions that their junction near Saigon might encourage the show two Russian naval forces inside French waters.

Premier Rouvier lengthily conferred with Foreign Minister Delcasse this morning concerning the pending situation but it is thought that their conversation related mainly to internal affairs.

ATTACKED DRIVERS

CHICAGO, May 10.—A lively disturbance occurred at Michigan avenue and South Water street some time after the Presidential party had passed the spot on the way to the Auditorium Hotel. The trouble began with a crowd throwing missiles at the non-uniform drivers of a coal wagon of the Edward P. Daniels Company. Allegedly the wagon was carrying a load of coal and was being driven by a driver who was attacking the driver when a patrol of police arrived in patrol wagons. After a brief fight the mob was dispersed.

ALLEGED "BLUEBEARD'S" TRIAL

CHICAGO, May 10.—At the trial of John Hoch, Dr. Oscar Lowke, who held the post-mortem examination over the body of Mrs. Walker-Hoch, described minutely the examination. On cross-examination he admitted that at the time of the examination he thought he detected signs of kidney trouble. Later, however, he was convinced that there were no indications of such disease.

GENERAL STRIKE EXPECTED

KIEFF, Russia, May 10.—A general strike and extensive demonstrations are expected here on the Russian May day.

NEW COURT OPENED

First Work is to Examine Applicants For Admission.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Dr. E. R. Taylor, the president of the Hastings Law College, in behalf of the lawyers of the State, made an address to the three Judges of the new Appellate Court, which was formally opened this morning in the offices of the Supreme Court. The new Judges are Harrison, Cooper and Hall, and the opening of the court was attended by a number of the most prominent lawyers in the city.

Dr. Taylor congratulated the State on the personnel of the Judges and said that this marks an epoch in the history of California. He praised the character of the Judges, and said that as a body the new court could compare favorably with any that was held in the United States. In the course of his address Dr. Taylor remarked:

"Rome was not at its greatest glory when its legions returned to the imperial city laden with the spoils of conquest. It was not the record of her conquests. It is not the fact that her laws were administered with impartiality, and that this conquering nation had evolved a code which is today admired by all nations. The law is the safeguard of all nations, and to the proper administration of the law each man looks to with anxiety. It is the law administered by the courts and aided by the advice of lawyers that each man is protected in life, limb and property. In truth, all civilized society rests in security on well administered law. I will close with the words, and only with a slight change, used by the officers of the Supreme Court of the United States when that court is opened. The officers pray for the entire nation. But I will still, using the sense of his words, say the same thing: 'God bless the people of California and this court.'"

Following Judge Harrison returned thanks in a few words, and then the court took up its first work of examining thirty-nine applicants for admission to the bar.

EXAMINE DIRECTORS

NEW YORK, May 10.—The examination of the officers and directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society by the State Insurance Department was begun yesterday when President Alexander spent considerable time with Superintendent Hendricks. The examination was conducted in the society's board room, and it is understood that Congressman M. E. Driscoll, of Syracuse, who is Superintendent Hendricks' chief adviser, assisted in the examination. Vice-President Hyde was closeted with Superintendent Hendricks and Mr. Driscoll today. He was accompanied by his counsel, Samuel Untermyer, carrying huge bundles of books and documents. It is expected that Vice-President Taylor's examination will follow that of Mr. Hyde.

MAY CUT RATES

WITNESSES CALLED

Grand Jury Took Up the Collins Case This Afternoon.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Subpoenas are out for William Newman and Mrs. S. A. McCurdy to appear before the Grand Jury this afternoon and testify at the investigation of George D. Collins' scandalous marriage relations. In all likelihood the brilliant but erratic attorney will be indicted for bigamy before the jury adjourns.

Thomas E. Curran, the lawyer, who was "best man" at the wedding when Collins made Miss Charlotte Eugene Newman his bride, will also be a witness. The marriage, birth and death records will be introduced as evidence, and, if it is thought necessary, Mrs. Charlotte Collins, the denied wife, will be summoned to tell the pitiful story of her life and testify to the shameful relations between her husband and her sister.

District Attorney Byington has called upon the Grand Jury to act. After careful perusal of the laws affecting the crime of bigamy he is satisfied that Collins can be indicted and punished in this city.

INDICTMENT CERTAIN.

"The most revolting conditions have been revealed," said Mr. Byington this morning. "It is the duty of the Grand Jury to see that the guilty are punished. My opinion is that an indictment can be found here. I have decided to call the witnesses and lay the entire matter before the jury."

So the indictment of Collins is almost a certainty. If the Grand Jury reaches a verdict before it adjourns late this afternoon, the attorney will be taken into custody without delay.

When Collins, his bride and her mother left the Palace Hotel yesterday afternoon they went to Mill Valley. They selected a quiet place where they thought Mrs. McCurdy and her daughter, who still thinks she is Mrs. Collins, would not be disturbed. But before noon today an officer, armed with a subpoena commanding Mrs. McCurdy to appear before the Grand Jury, has been sent after the older woman and instructed to go to Mill Valley for her if she had not come to this city today.

MOTHER TO TESTIFY.

The marriage of Collins and Miss Charlotte McCurdy in Chicago will be proved by the testimony of Mrs. McCurdy, who was present when the ceremony was performed. Her statement under oath will satisfy the demands of the law as far as the Grand Jury must fulfill them preparatory to finding a true bill against Collins, but if the shrewd attorney is indicted and brought to trial, not only will other witnesses be brought from Chicago, but a copy of the marriage record on file there will be produced.

Secretary Bryan of the Grand Jury called upon William Newman, brother of Mrs. Charlotte Collins, last night and told him to have witnesses in readiness for this afternoon's session.

SAY HE TOOK BRIBE.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 10.—A special from Little Rock, Ark., says: Hon. C. E. Andrews, representative from Nevada county in the Nevada assembly and editor of the Prescott Pioneer, is in the Las Vegas County Jail on the charge of having received a bribe and of offering a bribe in connection with legislation.

The information on which the warrants were issued was furnished by Representative Simpson of Hemphill county, who alleged that Andrews had offered Representative Simpson $50 for his vote on the Kilgore levee bill and that he (Andrews) accepted a bribe of $100 for the same measure.

GERMANS ON TRANSPORTS.

FRANKFURT, May 10.—The Frankfurt Zeitung today says it has received advice from Hamburg to the effect that agents of the Russian Government have completed arrangements through the society of German captains and officers of commercial marines for the enlistment of officers and crews for transport ships which are to accompany the fifth division of the Russian second Pacific squadron to the Far East. These crews, it is added, will proceed to Libau on the Baltic sea.

SAFE BREAKERS.

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—Safe breakers early this morning entered the warehouse of Kaufman, Davidson and Company, 115 and 117 West Second street, and blew open the safe in the office, securing $45 in cash. Entrance was effected into the building through the skylight and nitro-glycerine poured into the crevice around the door plate of the safe. The explosion blew the door off its hinges. The police have no clue to the perpetrators of the robbery, who evidently were experts.

KITCHINGS TO RESIGN

He Will Not Serve on the Board of Health.

Dr. J. T. Kitchings had a conference with Mayor Mott this morning regarding the appointments on the Board of Health.

After Dr. Kitchings had learned the situation he stated to Mayor Mott that he would not serve as a member of the Board of Health under the existing conditions.

In other words he said he did not care to serve with Dr. Ewer as Health Officer.

Dr. Kitchings will probably present his resignation in a few days.

DIVORCE AFTER MANY YEARS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—After living together as man and wife for nearly two-score and three years, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Harris, a highly respected and well-to-do couple, whose home is at 1416 Webster street, have found the matrimonial bonds galling, and now, in their old age, they are to appear in court as the parties to a divorce suit.

Mrs. Hannah Harris, the wife, is the plaintiff in the suit, which was filed today by her attorney, M. J. Waldmeier. She charged that her husband, her aged husband has grown cold, and that happiness has gone from the family hearthstone forever.

Cruelty and non-support are the specific indictments which Mrs. Harris sets up against her husband, and in amplification of the same she states that Daniel Harris has neglected to provide her with proper support and has been unkind in his conduct toward her during the past seven years.

The wife endured the slights and neglect, according to the complaint, until mere unkindness was merged into brutality. That was on April 21 of the present year, when, she alleges, Mr. Harris administered a severe beating, disabling her to such an extent that she was compelled to leave him and take to her bed.

She wants $100 a month alimony.

HUTTON CLAIMS ESTATE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Harry W. Hutton, former police commissioner, has filed a second will claiming the estate of his deceased wife, Mrs. Irene Serton Hutton. Two weeks ago Mrs. Edith Serton Hutton, of San Jose, sister of Mr. Hutton, put on record a will which bequeathed all of the estate to her brother and niece. Mrs. Hutton's request to her husband is made in a letter written four months ago after she had affixed her name to the former testament, for the execution of which Mrs. Hutton recently procured letters of special administration from Judge Kitchings.

Today Attorney Max Kuhl, who is Hutton's associate, offered the second will for probate, and this afternoon appeared before Judge Lawlor and asked to have the order of appointment of Mrs. Hutton vacated.

SHANGHAI, May 10.—A large and influential meeting of Chinese merchants, held here today, protested vigorously against the proposed new Chinese exclusion treaty recently discussed in the United States. Telegrams from the subject were sent to Yuan Shi Kai, Viceroy of China province, and Choufu, Viceroy of Nankin, and it was unanimously decided to boycott American goods until the terms of the proposed treaty are modified. The merchants' guild throughout the Chinese empire are urged to co-operate in the movement.

President Wants Merchants to Get Behind
Big Navy.

CHICAGO, May 10.—In his speech President Roosevelt said:

"No business community can succeed unless it is based on high ideals. Permanent success comes only when the average man may be trusted in dealing with his fellow men."

"So it is in fact with the success of the nation."

With these words, applied by many who heard them to the critical industrial situation in Chicago, President Roosevelt addressed the Merchants' Club at the luncheon given him by the merchants' organizations at the Auditorium this afternoon.

It was the only point in his speech which could be construed as referring to the strike, and with these words the President, led up to the theme of a great navy for the nation's commerce and the nation's honor. He appealed to the Merchants' Club and the other commercial organizations of the city to propagate the idea of a big navy.

CHICAGO, May 10.—While luncheon was in progress and before the speeches, a bellboy appeared bearing a long yellow envelope addressed to the President and marked "Special." It was thought to be a protest from the Chicago strike leaders against the use of troops here. Nothing, however, could be learned during the luncheon regarding the protest.

President Roosevelt was introduced by President Wacker of the Merchants' Club. The President, as the keynote of his speech took up the foreign policy of the country.

At the close of the luncheon the President shook hands with the club members, who formed in line and filed by.

UNION MEN PROTEST

CHICAGO, May 10.—The following protest against sending Federal troops to Chicago on account of the teamsters' strike was handed to President Roosevelt by President Shea, of the International Teamsters' Union and other labor leaders:

"To the Honorable Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States of America: Honorable Sir—This labor difficulty began as a lockout. So far as there has been any striking done it has been a strike for arbitration."

"The unions involved are committed both upon principle and by specific contract with the employers' for arbitration."

"These contracts grew out of the desire of the unions to protect the public peace and welfare by providing to submit all disputes or differences of opinion to the umpirage of an impartial third party, and accepting that decision, right or wrong, as binding upon both parties."

"Such a course is a guarantee of the preservation of law and order. All that the unions ask for or desire in this case is that an arbitration shall be granted as specifically agreed to in the contracts involved. All that is desired is that the public officials shall join with the labor bodies in demanding that lawlessness shall not be allowed to be used in forcing contracts to be broken and that violence shall not be allowed to prevent differences of opinion to be settled by the quiet, orderly method of arbitration."

"The contracts of June 25, 1903, provide for arbitration as follows, in the sixth, fourth and eighth sections, respectively:

"Eight—It is agreed that in the event of a misunderstanding or any dispute arising as to the construction of this working agreement, or any misunderstanding in regard to the operation or enforcement of this contract between the parties hereto, or as to all differences of opinion in regard to any section of this contract, between the party of the first part and the party of the second part, no house shall lock out any member of said local union No. 21 and no executive board or business agent shall declare a strike and said local No. 21 shall not declare a strike, but such misunderstandings, disputes or differences of opinion shall be referred within twenty-four hours to the representatives of the parties to this contract for settlement, and in case such representatives fail to settle such controversy within twenty-four hours the same shall have been submitted to them. It is agreed that each party shall select an arbitrator, and the two arbitrators so selected shall as speedily as possible name one disinterested person who shall not be manufacturer or a member of any labor organization and the three so selected shall within ten days settle the difficulty and the decision so rendered shall be binding on all parties to this agreement."

"You will therefore readily see that we have the right to demand arbitration, a demand that has been repeatedly spurned by the employers at a bargain on account of removal of office. Address H. H. Box 718, Tribune office."

Japan Attempts to Show
Where Neutrality
Was Violated.

PARIS, May 10, 6:05.—In the course of an apparently authoritative statement published here today of Japan's case against France, a summary is given of various acts of assistance rendered the vessels of the Russian Second Pacific squadron at Cherbourg, Dakar, Algiers, Jibuti, Bagurga, Kamranh Bay, Port Dayot and Hong-koo Bay.

The conclusions of the Japanese government are stated to be as follows:

"First, without questioning the good faith of France, Japan holds that French orders to observe neutrality have been insufficiently executed."

"Secondly, France should have taken sufficient measures beforehand to prevent violations of neutrality, instead of securing the observance of neutrality after Japan's remonstrances."

"Third, in default of sufficient surveillance, Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky has been greatly facilitated in the accomplishment of his mission and in gaining access to Chinese waters. Consequently, it was for the ends of warfare that Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky utilized on successive occasions French waters both for anchoring and revictualing and in awaiting the arrival of reinforcements."

The foregoing is said to have been substantially Japan's position in both as to the past and as the basis of any further claims arising from the alleged breaches of neutrality.

MARYSVILLE, May 10.—The Grand Army delegates to the encampment of the department which includes California and Nevada are much interested in the contest for the office of department commander to succeed Charles T. Rice of Riverside. Judge A. Buckles, past department commander, has expressed the opinion that unless one of the country candidates, Past Commander Campbell of Stockton or Commander W. W. Russell of Marysville, withdraws, A. D. Cutter of San Francisco will be elected. Others think that Russell is in the lead. W. J. Leavitt of Meade Post, San Francisco, is the only candidate mentioned so far for department commander. Governor Pardee and party are expected to arrive tonight to take part in the parade tomorrow. The national commander and party will arrive from Boston during the afternoon. The sessions commenced this morning. The Woman's Relief Corps and the Ladies of the G. A. R. also began work today, looking out for the next year's encampment and delegates from there are working hard to win.

BERKELEY SCHOOLS

Superintendent Waterman reported that he had received a request for the use of the McKinley School for Saturday night, when Professor Gressler of the University will deliver an address regarding methods of beautifying school buildings and grounds. The Board authorized the purchase of three lots adjoining the Whittier School property on Lincoln street at a cost of $3750.

REVAL, European Russia, May 10.—At a large meeting of workmen here today which was attended by delegates from St. Petersburg and a number of masked men, it was decided to proclaim a three days' strike in connection with labor day (May 15). It was further determined to serve fresh demands upon the employers coupled with the intimation that if they were not complied with inside twelve hours the destruction of the factories by fire would follow.

The meeting separated after a song ending with the refrain, "Not from the Emperor, but from our own strength comes success to us."

The song was sung to the music of Martin Luther's well known hymn, "Ein Feste Burg Ist Unser Gott."

NEW MEMBERS IN UNION

ADDITION OF FIVE TO THE LAUNDRY WORKERS—MILK-MEN TO ORGANIZE.

Five new members were taken into the Laundry Workers' Union, Oakland Local 55, at the meeting Monday evening. This raises the total number to nearly 350.

A communication was received from the International Union of Laundry Workers enclosing a copy of the agreement between that body and the International Union of Steam Engineers.

The principal provisions of the agreement are that those laundries which have the privilege of using the union label must employ members of the Engineers' Union to attend to the machinery, and that members of either union must attend to their own work and not do that of the other craft.

The copy was sent to settle a difference of opinion between the Oakland locals of the two unions.

MILK-MEN TO ORGANIZE.
Andrew Moore, the international organizer of the American League of Dairy Workers, was in Oakland yesterday visiting the different dairies. At several of the places he succeeded in getting the men to promise to join the San Francisco union, there being none at present in Oakland.

One will be organized within a short time, however, by the Central Labor Council. The local thus formed is to include the workmen of Alameda county.

THE TEAMSTERS.
Important business will be transacted at a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Teamsters' Local 70 next Monday evening. Preparations are to be made for an entertainment of some nature not yet determined. Other matters, which are to be kept secret, will be considered.

Seven new members were received into the union at the meeting held last night, four by initiation and three by card. Eight more applications are on file and will be acted upon at the next session.

FOR LABOR DAY.
There will be a meeting of the committees from the different unions to prepare for the celebration of Labor Day at the headquarters of the Central Labor Council on the afternoon of May 28th. It is expected that the affair will be greater than in any of the previous years, though the customary parade will probably be omitted. A picnic to Idora Park may be the feature of the day.

BLOOD IS THICKER THAN WATER

This is true only of good blood, or when in a normal, healthy state. There are times when the blood is so tainted with disease and polluted and poisoned that it loses its proper consistency, its richness and purity, and becomes pale and anaemic, weak and almost as thin as water. Being the storehouse of the body and the fountain-source from which the rest of the system is nourished and sustained, the purity of the blood must be maintained or every organ, nerve and tissue in the body is weakened, and sickness and disease develop. Rich, pure blood, full of life-giving elements and teeming with millions of red corpuscles is the kind that makes strong muscles, healthy nerves and vigorous bodies. To keep this great life stream free of impurities is essential to the enjoyment of full and perfect health. A large majority of human ailments are due to a bad condition of the blood. Sores and Ulcers, Abscesses, Boils and Skin Eruptions of various kinds are some of the numerous signs of a contaminated, tainted blood. Weak and watery blood makes weak and frail bodies. Anaemic, waxy, sallow complexions, flabby muscles, shattered nerves, black heads, pimples and various other skin diseases denote blood poverty and a weak condition of this vital fluid, and that its nutritious qualities have been destroyed.

To keep this great life-stream in health requires that all morbid matter and poisonous secretions be promptly removed, or it becomes a source of disease itself, poisoning instead of nourishing the system, and producing an endless train of diseases. The blood must be kept rich, strong and pure or it cannot perform its proper offices. The nutritious elements when lacking must be renewed, all obstructions to a full and free circulation removed, and humors, and poisons, of every kind antidoted and driven out. To do this requires a blood purifier that enters into the circulation, destroying all disease-bearing germs, humors and poisons, and purifying and cleansing the blood. At the same time a tonic is needed to aid in building up the general system and stimulating the sluggish organs, and no remedy on the market has a better record or has been so thoroughly tested in such cases as S. S. S., the great vegetable blood purifier and tonic, the medicine nearest to nature, and composed exclusively of ingredients collected from fields and forests. No strong minerals of any description are used in the making of S. S. S., and it is the only guaranteed purely vegetable remedy in existence, and has been in use for nearly 50 years. Its reputation as a blood purifier and tonic is established. It is not a new and untried remedy, but "S. S. S. for the Blood" is widely known and popular. If you have any symptoms of bad blood or any evidences of a weak, watery condition of this vital fluid, write us and medical advice or any special information, will be furnished free of charge, and book on the blood and its diseases mailed free.

EXCHANGE HOLDS ELECTION

DIRECTORS CHOSEN WHO ELEVATE A. H. SCHLUETER TO PRESIDENCY.

A. H. Schluter was elected president of the Merchants' Exchange last night and H. C. Williams vice-president. The new directors are as follows: Geo. W. Arper, R. M. Briare, D. C. Brown, J. L. Champlin, H. C. Coward, D. Crowley, F. G. Elden, F. M. Farwell, Herman Gurd, Theo. Gier, Geo. Hoffman, A. Jones, E. F. Muller, H. M. Sanborn, A. H. Schluter, Fred. Sinclair, J. F. W. Stohs, W. H. Welby, H. G. Williams, J. S. Wixson, E. A. Young, Wilber Walker.

Mr. Schluter has held the position of vice-president of the Exchange for the past year and according to the custom of the Exchange was advanced from the second position to the first place by the unanimous vote of the directors. Director E. G. Williams was unanimously chosen vice-president and Wilber Walker was continued at his post of secretary of the Exchange which he has filled for many years. W. H. Welby was elected treasurer.

TO HOLD BANQUET. It was definitely decided last night to hold an annual banquet of the Exchange each year and according to the plan of that of any guest that he may wish to bring. To this end the following committee was appointed to have charge of the preparations: H. G. Williams, Fred Sinclair, H. M. Sanborn, Fred Lee, and Herman Gurd.

THANKS TRIBUNE. Director Schluter introduced a resolution thanking the Oakland TRIBUNE for an editorial upon the subject of an all-night ferry system towards which the Merchants' Exchange has been working consistently for a long time.

THANKS CHAS. SPEAR. The following resolution was introduced by Director Arper: "Whereas, The Merchants' Exchange of Oakland has endeavored for two or three years to have the State Harbor Commission abate the nuisance which so long existed on the ferry wharves in San Francisco; and

This suggestion was adopted. Secretary Walker said further that the trouble with the garbage ordinance was that it provided for the crematory company should remove refuse matter "not oftener than once in two weeks." This permitted the company to overlook the waste matter for months and this it did because the company got no pay for removing the refuse matter being paid only for taking the garbage to the crematory. Mr. Belgrano of East Oakland addressed the Exchange in behalf of the scavengers, who, he said, claimed that the crematory company was not incinerating the garbage but was dumping it about its works. He said he would have the attorney for the scavengers present to explain the matter from their standpoint, if satisfactory to the Exchange. He was told that the Exchange would be glad to hear what the attorney had to offer at the next meeting. Director R. M. Briare thought that the crematory company should be compelled to keep its waste covered. This matter was referred by the Exchange to the garbage committee.

LIKE A CURSE REMOVED

Awful skin disease of this woman cured in a few weeks after fifteen years' terrible affliction.

Note the ghastly despair in the photo taken before treatment.

(Case of Mrs. J. M. Daniels of Winchester, Ky.—completely cured by D. D. D. after 15 years' affliction. She had suffered fifteen years.)

See the same features—but note how different when brightened with hope and happiness, after her freedom from it all.

Reader! This is more than medicine talk. It is humanity to enlighten sufferers about this.

The most virulent skin diseases are conquered—every time—in all cases—without any exception—after a few weeks—by the brilliantly clever new skin prescription, "D. D. D." Its work is hardly equalled by any other wonders of modern medical practice.

We guarantee this to be true

Enough has been proven to us—regarding the above case and hundreds of others—to demonstrate beyond all question whatever that any of the known "forms of skin disease—any eruption or breaking out—must quickly give way and disappear under the influence of this prescription (known as "D. D. D."), "Jas. of Eczema, Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, Psoriasis, Barber's Itch, Acne, etc., some of twenty years' standing have been cleared off and permanently cured in a few weeks. In several cases from one to five years have elapsed and there has been no returning sign of the disease. Hundreds of cases cured since the preparation has been placed on sale show no sign at all of the previous affliction, and we fully believe they are permanent cures.

Have you been—or do you know anyone who has been—in a living hell of torture with a skin disease? Despair usually seizes those so afflicted. Many imagine it is in the blood and too subtle to cure. Doctors have stood baffled and helpless against Eczema. Half of them think its worse forms are blood poison. Ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of manifestations on the skin are purely local—SKIN disease—not BLOOD disease. Healthy blooded people break out as often as any one, the blood has nothing to do with it in most cases. It is a parasite in the skin that spreads. This prescription is today completely clearing away—quickly too—and permanently curing every trace of such parasitic trouble and leaves the skin soft, healthy and perfect. Call on the above druggists and investigate the unquestionable proofs in their possession.

MAKING TESTS FOR THE NEW SERVICE.

Large Engine is Placed on the Berkeley Run--Work on Solano is Being Rushed.

WEST OAKLAND, YARDS, May 10.—Experiments began today for the twenty-minute ferry service which will soon be established by the Southern Pacific Company. Engine No. 2320 was placed on the Berkeley run to ascertain the exact time that can be made between stations. No. 2320 has larger wheels than the ordinary local locomotive and if it proves satisfactory the other engines will be remodeled.

Similar experiments on the Seventh street and Alameda locals will be made before the end of the week.

The new system will give three broad-gauge trains an hour instead of two, as at present, and later it is intended to establish an all-night service.

The new system means increased work in the shops, as many engines and cars will be remodeled.

WORK ON SOLANO.

Fifty men have gone to Port Costa to complete the repairs on the ferry steamer Solano, that was recently on the marine ways at West Oakland.

They will work under the direction of F. D. Williams, foreman of the joiners, and their work will be confined to the upper decks. It will in no way interfere with the steamer's run across the straits of Carquinez.

When the Solano was on the ways here Superintendent McKenzie of the shipyards did not attempt to repair the upper decks, but through overhauling the hull, completing the work in the surprisingly short time of ninety days.

NEW TURNABLE.

The new turntable at the roundhouse has been completed and was used for the first time today.

While the new table was being built on the fill west of the yards was in connection with a system of store tracks. The table on the fill will not be removed, but will be used for emergency purposes.

The new table is larger than the one previously used and has been fitted with a concrete foundation.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

The Rev. Dwight E. Potter conducted the third of a series of religious services at the machine shops yesterday. His sermon was on the "Aids of the Apostles."

The services are held each Tuesday at the noon hour and are largely attended by the railroad men.

STUDENT MACHINIST.

Thomas Dadds Jr., a senior at Cooper Medical College, made arrangements today to work in the machine shops during the three months' summer vacation. He will begin his work in August.

Dadds worked at the shops last year and he will continue to do so until he takes his degree, as it is in that way that he is enabled to go through college. He is a great favorite with the railroad men and the heads of the various departments.

FEELS EFFECT OF NEW LINE

MANY PEOPLE TAKE ADVANTAGE OF CAR SERVICE TO DO SHOPPING.

POINT RICHMOND, May 10.—Richmond is already feeling the good effects of the electric line to Oakland, and when the new cars arrive and people become accustomed to the service an impetus to all lines of business will be experienced.

Three of the new electric cars ordered by the East Shore and Suburban Company arrived yesterday by the Southern Pacific and will go into service on the Berkeley run as soon as they can be fitted up. They are somewhat larger than those already in use and more conveniently arranged for the accommodation of patrons.

BOY STRUCK BY A HEAVY SHOT

Carl Luebke, 10 years of age, lies at his home, 164 Filbert street, with a fracture of the hip, caused by a blow from an eight-pound iron shot. The boy was watching the athletic practice of the Oakland High School athletes at the training grounds at Fifteenth and Market streets. Carl A. Auerbach, 20 years of age, residing at 554 Twenty-third street, was the one who threw the shot. A number of small boys were looking on and among them was Carl Luebke. Just as Auerbach hurled the metal sphere Carl Luebke stepped into range and before he could be warned of the danger he was struck on the side of the head and sank to the ground unconscious.

The injured boy was then taken to his home, where death is expected at any moment.

The American Mission to London.

The distinguished honors paid Hon. Joseph H. Choate on his retirement from his post of Ambassador to the Court of St. James recalls the fact that the American envoys to Great Britain have, with a very few exceptions, been men of the highest rank in character and ability. Beginning with John Jay and running down to the present day the American embassy in London has been graced by a succession of statesmen of whom the American nation has a right to be proud.

In the list can be found the names of such men as James Monroe, John Quincy Adams, George Rives, Martin Van Buren, James Buchanan, John Lothrop Motley, Charles Francis Adams, Reverdy Johnson, Robert C. Schenck, Thomas F. Bayard, James Russell Lowell, James Bancroft and John Hay. These names occur readiest to us, but there are many other illustrious names in the list, and not one discreditable to this country.

It is a noteworthy record that American diplomacy has made in its relations with the British Crown, and one that has made its impression on the statesmen and people of Great Britain. It has enlarged respect for American intellect and attainments among the English-speaking people of the Old World, and has materially assisted in bringing England and the United States into closer and warmer relations. From the first this country sent its choicest statesmen to represent us at the British court. Possibly this policy had its inception in the idea that having separated by force of arms from the British government we should put our best foot forward in dealing with it diplomatically. At any rate we have always had our best foot forward at the London embassy. We have kept the post filled with our cleverest statesmen, writers and wits. It has proved a wise policy, for it has given America and Americans a high place in the estimation of the British public.

Mr. Choate's farewell is a tribute to the policy our country has pursued no less than a personal triumph for himself. Last in a line of men noted as much for their wit and urbanity as for their learning and diplomatic skill, he has more than held his own. He ranks among the ablest of our representatives at the Court of St. James and returns home conspicuously honored on both sides of the Atlantic for the talent and tact he has displayed in dealing with delicate questions nearly touching the good relations existing between the United States and Great Britain. It should give every genuine American unfeigned satisfaction to see our representative so signally honored abroad, particularly as the honors have been earned without sacrifice of dignity or the interests of our country.

The Chicago Record-Herald comments sarcastically on the fact that Wisconsin, one of the large tobacco producing States of the Union, should have legislated so stringently against the cigarette. Nothing odd about it. Wisconsin tobacco is worthless for making cigarettes.

The latest report shows 364,000 native children enrolled in the public schools in the Philippine Islands. The great majority are in the schools of Luzon. Here is proof that benevolent assimilation is doing some good work for the spread of enlightenment and the uplifting of humanity.

A University of Chicago professor insists that it is a mistake to celebrate the Fourth of July. He says the 18th of August is the day on which the eagle should scream. Was John D. Rockefeller born on the 18th of August?

Eli Perkins says John D. Rockefeller is one of the best men in America. Eli is famed as being the biggest liar on the continent.

The Hessian fly is devastating the wheat fields of Kansas. Is this a punishment inflicted by Providence to avenge the persecution of such a good man as John D. Rockefeller?

Now that the Council has decided to renew the privilege of riding bicycles on the sidewalk, it might as well go on with the good work and have all the sidewalks paved so as to make wheeling more pleasant. A good place to make a beginning is the east side of Broadway, between Eighteenth and Twenty-second streets. No bicycles are ridden on the sidewalks there because no sidewalks have been laid down there and the street is in much better condition for any purpose than the strip of mud-rotten planks and weeds that is called by courtesy a sidewalk. Perhaps if the bicycle riders would petition the Council that obliging body would order sidewalks laid down.

Nothing more bizarre can be found in the field of French fiction than the revelations the Collins case affords. A social phase is revealed that Emile Zola would have seized with avidity and treated with characteristic power. The incident is depressing from a moral point of view, but it has its lessons and its warnings.

More Anti-Jewish Riots in Russia.

The riotous outbreaks against the Jews in South-western Russia predicted in the press dispatches for the last six weeks have taken place, despite the assurance of the government authorities that all was quiet and that every precaution had been taken to prevent anti-Jewish disturbances. The government cannot claim that it was not fully warned in time of the impending riotous demonstrations. The agitation leading up to the riots has been in active progress ever since the beginning of the year, and has been freely commented on by the press correspondents in Russia. The Jews themselves appealed to the St. Petersburg authorities for protection, which they were assured would be forthcoming, but which has been denied them in the hour of extremity. Here we have again illustrated the faithlessness and deliberate cruelty of the Russian government in dealing with the Jews. It treats the Jews as a people under ban. In official circles there is an undisguised sentiment in favor of despoiling and driving out the seed of Abraham. The attitude of the government, the tone of the official press, and the sentiment pervading official circles are naturally reflected in the acts of brutal violence perpetrated by the ignorant and superstitious peasantry, who have been taught to ascribe the effects of misgovernment and the results of their own improvidence and dissolute habits to the usurious practices and machinations of the Jews. Religious prejudice adds to the popular feeling against the Jews, it being still believed by millions of the orthodox faith in Russia that the Jews murder Christian children in sacrificial rites. The orthodox clergy encourage this gross fiction, and the government makes no effort to correct an error due to ignorance and superstition. Hence the riotous outbreaks at the annual recurrence of the Easter season. The church and the bureaucracy are component parts of the same infamous system which keeps the mass of the common people steeped in ignorance and bigotry, and inflames popular passion against a people whom the peasantry are taught to regard as aliens and enemies alike of the Christian faith and the Russian people. For the condition of the people, and the inevitable consequences of playing upon their bigoted ignorance, the Czar's government cannot escape responsibility. It has sown the seed of the whirlwind, and when the whirlwind comes the government is in no position to stop it. It is not strange, therefore, that the Jews should again be made the victims of criminal maladministration.

The House of Commons has sustained the Irish policy of the Balfour ministry by the decisive majority of 63, a proof that the ancient prejudice against Ireland and the Irish still survives in England. It must be conceded, however, that the Tory-Unionist government has effected some notable reforms in Ireland, and in many ways has ameliorated the crying conditions in the purely agricultural districts. A much larger share in the local government has been vested in the Irish people. Nevertheless, Ireland is still an object of unjust discrimination in British legislation. The unfortunate island, impoverished by alien landlordism, rack-renting, repressive laws affecting manufacturing and commerce, and centuries of class misrule, is still made to pay an unjust proportion of imperial taxes, and its people are denied privileges equal to those accorded the people of England and Scotland. Still steady progress is being made in many directions. The land is being gradually restored to the tillers and the machinery of local administration is going back into the hands of the governed; the repressive laws directed against the commerce and manufactures of Ireland have been lifted, and an enlightened England is earnestly urging complete justice to the sister island. But reforms and the correction of ancient wrongs and evils make rather slow progress as a rule, and perhaps the changes for the better in Ireland are proceeding as fast as can be reasonably expected. The time has not arrived when an English Parliament will throw a government out of power because it has not treated Ireland exactly right, particularly when one-fourth of the inhabitants of Ireland support the government's policy.

The Nevada City Miner-Transcript draws an unfavorable comparison between the editorial columns of the Stockton Mail of today and what they were in E. L. Colton's time. The comparison is unjust to the present editor of the Mail. Mr. Colton was not only a brilliant and versatile writer himself, but he employed many pens in making the editorial columns of the Mail forceful, instructive and entertaining. He paid liberal space rates to writers in San Francisco and elsewhere for editorials in line with the Mail's policy. Hence no paper in California was cleverer or stronger editorially than the Mail. But the situation is different today. Mr. Cowell does practically all the editorial work on the Mail and much else besides. He writes well and intelligently and in accordance with the dictates of conscience, but it is impossible that his single pen should equal in variety, cleverness and volume the contents of the Mail's editorial page in Mr. Colton's day. But the Stockton Mail is today a more consistent and better balanced newspaper than it ever was before in its history—and it has never at any time been dull or unenterprising.

CATHEDRAL BUILDING AND HUMAN VANITY.

Justice Harlan, of the Supreme Court, urges the Presbyterian body, of which he is a member, to erect a minister of imposing dimensions and grandeur at the National Capital. Washington, he observes, is the center of American political life, and it behooves his sect to put its best foot forward in such surroundings. On the face of things, the proposal looks like a huge bit of worldly vanity. The Presbyterians have no special occasion to go in for any big building scheme in Washington. The meeting houses of that denomination, already existent, more than fill every actual requirement of the membership, present and prospective. That much is freely admitted by Presbyterians not in sympathy with Mr. Harlan's ambitious project. A Protestant Episcopal Bishop has his seat in Washington and it is the purpose of the body he represents to upbuild a costly architectural pile, with a view, it seems, of impressing visitors rather than of serving any religious or practical need. One of our Catholic exchanges, whose imagination is fired by the vision of a future Presbyterian minister of magnificent proportions and the spectacle of a budding Protestant Episcopal temple, suggests that the Catholic Church step in and overtop both enterprises. This contemporary would have the seat of the Baltimore Archdiocese transplanted, and a grand cathedral exceeding in cost and splendor any similar structure in America, reared near the White House or on Capitol Hill, in the shadow of the dome of the National council chamber. The spirit of the suggestion savors of the apparent vanity of Justice Harlan's. In all ages of the Church cathedral building has been regarded distinctly as an act of faith. The desire to outshine the material and artistic efforts of would-be rivals has never entered into the question. At least the great cathedrals of the world are looked upon by the intelligent, even those not of the fold, as monuments of piety, inspired solely by zeal for God's glory.—The Monitor.

CHICAGO NEEDS AN EMPEROR.

Municipal ownership that was voted in Chicago recently has not gone into operation yet, we notice. At present it seems that the whole city will have to be turned over to the Cook county sheriff, then to the militia, and next to Uncle Sam. There is no city in America that is so full of riot as Chicago. That community doesn't want municipal ownership so much as it does an emperor. Possessing every kind and class of humanity it is a hard city to control, and ever since the Haymarket massacre it has been a bubbling hole of trouble. The municipal government has been one of graft, while the populace is hot-headed, and much of it ignorant and alien, thus presenting all the elements that go to make a social and political volcano that is liable to erupt at any moment.—Hanford Sentinel.

THE STRANGER.
He came before the lonely stand
And spoke in music rich and deep;
"Now let me in, and make my bed!
The time hath come when I would sleep."
She drew the latch, that maiden brave,
And bade the pallid stranger stay.
No word nor look of thanks he gave
But heavy, heavy, down he lay.
And seven times the sun arose,
And seven times the shadow crept,
And still he breathed in deep repose,
And still she watched the while he slept.
At length when dawning shimmered red
He cast aside the drowsy spell;
Then, laughing clear, the maiden said,
"O, dark-eyed youth, thou sleepest well!"
"My rest hath stayed a flood of tears—
That now must flow," the stranger spake;
"I sleep but once a thousand years,
And mankind sorrows when I wake."
"Then rest thee still!" she murmured low;
"Who art thou, youth?" He made reply,
"My name, alas! thou must not know,
For they that hear will surely die."
She laid his hand across her heart
And spoke her truth with naught of shame:
"I love thee, what'er thou art;
Then let me die, but tell thy name!"
Oh, thrice the ruddy lips he pressed!
And sadly kissed the golden head
That bowed and sank upon his breast;
"My name is Death!" the stranger said.

"MARRIAGE 21 YEARS AGO IS OUTLAWED" IS THIS BIGAMIST'S PLEA

Man Who Eloped From Ireland With Neighbor's Daughter, Says, "I'll Get a Year For This, I Guess. Then I'll Go Back and Get Rid of 'em Both."

NEW YORK, May 10.—Charles Burns, bigamist, made an unusual defense yesterday in the Harlem Police Court. For twenty-one years his first wife, whom he had deserted in Ireland, had been seeking him, and finally had caused his arrest.

"Yes," he said, after admitting his crime, "I married again, but that first marriage was so long ago that it is outlawed."

Burns, who is forty-one years old, had been living recently at No. 305 East Eighty-fourth street. In 1884 he left his home in Bellen Temple, Ireland, with Susie McHugh, a neighbor's daughter. His forsaken wife made every effort to locate him, but the task seemed hopeless.

Eight years ago the McHugh girl returned to Ireland and visited her old home. She stayed a few weeks and then came back to America. Afterward, Mrs. Burns No. 1 says, she and her son Edward suffered from continual taunts by the members of the McHugh family remaining in Bellen Temple.

She came, finally, to Pittsburg, still seeking clues as to Burns' whereabouts. The information came to her, recently, in a mysterious manner. An anonymous correspondent wrote her from New York, saying her husband was here.

The Pittsburg police notified the detectives in New York and Burns' arrest followed.

At the hearing yesterday he was held under $2,500 bail for further examination today. He did not seem to be greatly disturbed at his predicament. He admitted his second marriage.

"I suppose you know what you are likely to get for this," said one of the detectives to him.

"Oh, I suppose I'll get a year. Then I'll go back to Venezuela and be rid of both of 'em."

"What do you want me to do with your husband?" asked Magistrate Breen of Mrs. Burns No. 1.

She seemed uncertain, but finally said, "I want him punished as the law says." Then she began to cry.

MRS. CHADWICK "My Bed Sold? Never!"

CLEVELAND, May 10.—I won't have the public imposed upon. The people pay their good money and they are entitled to value received," said Mrs. Chadwick today, her indignation having been aroused when her attention was called to a list of her goods that had been sold at auction in New York.

"There they announce the canopy top brass bed that the only Mrs. Cassie Chadwick slept in. They haven't got a single bed of mine. The cut glass finger bowl into which the pretty digits of the great Cassie were dipped, indeed!"

"Why, they got some cut glass but no finger bowls. Those men have been, patronizing the second-hand dealers, I think. They tried it here. Several persons began to sell stuff they claimed having been mine, but my attorneys stopped them. We will do the same in New York."

"I see they have sold a cut glass chair of mine, alleging that it cost $1,000. For that chair I actually paid $62. A clock they advertised was given to me. It is advertised to have cost $2,500. As a matter of fact, I think it cost $40 or $45. I would advise purchasers not to pick up any old junk offered and imagine it had the Chadwick notoriety. My signature should be on every piece—look for the name—none genuine without the signature."

Train Delayed to Save the Life of Incubator Baby.

Lamp Which Furnishes the Heat for the Apparatus is Extinguished and New Lamp is Found After a Search.

MUSCATINE, Iowa, May 10.—A little less than three pounds of very delicate humanity in a baby incubator caused commotion quite out of proportion to its size on an east-bound Chicago train. The father of the microscopic infant was taking it to Chicago in an incubator that it might be given care in an institution there.

Shortly before arriving here the lamp furnishing the heat for the incubator was accidentally broken. It was night and cold, and the frightened father gave an immediate alarm. If the temperature should fall a few degrees the baby would die. Men and women passengers crowded around, but nobody knew what to do.

Finally William Laventure, an unmarried, a representative of the general passenger department of the Rock Island, shouldered his way through the crowd along with the train conductor, and announced that the train would be held at this city until a new lamp could be found. It was a half hour late as a result when it left, but the lamp had been found, and baby was sleeping in its requisite 96 degrees Fahrenheit.

SICK MOTHER'S SKIN IS GRAFTED ON BABIES

NEW YORK, May 10.—An example of parental devotion is furnished by Mrs. Morris Ginsberg, who has allowed physicians at Beth Israel Hospital to remove large sections of her skin to be grafted on her two children, although she herself is lying in the hospital suffering from terrible burns received in the recent Allen street tenement fire.

Yesterday Morris Ginsberg, the father, also submitted himself to the surgeon's knife, and such cuticle as was needed to complete the operation was removed. The children for whom this unusual parental sacrifice was made are Annie, aged four, and Elsie, aged twelve, both of whom are now said to be on the road to recovery.

The Ginsberg family was one of those that suffered worst in the fire. At one time six of the family were in the hospital, and none of them was expected to live. All but the mother and two daughters soon showed signs of improvement, however, and were discharged from the hospital.

The physicians failed to relieve the sufferings of the two daughters, however, and it was announced last week that but one course lay open to save their lives; that was to graft new skin on the burnt places. The mother and father immediately offered to furnish the necessary cuticle, and Mrs. Ginsberg was operated on first. The mother and one of the daughters were placed on adjoining operating tables and as rapidly as a layer of skin was shaved from the mother it was placed on the little sufferer at her side. The transfer yesterday from father to the other daughter was carried out in similar fashion.

The two children were burned about the legs and arms, and the skin for the affected parts were taken from their parents' thighs. Dr. Benjamin Shetlin, under whose supervision the operation was performed, was confident last night of its success.

Peasant Girl Waits For $50,000 While the Lawyers Argue

Unique Will Contest Holds Up Sculptor James S. Connor's Bequest to His Pretty Model and Protege, in Italy.

NEW YORK, May 10.—In the little village of Montalcino, near Florence, Italy, Caterina Paffi, a peasant girl who had been the model and death-bed companion of James Stanley Connor, the wealthy sculptor, is watching at the cross-roads for the post rider to bring her $50,000 which Connor willed to her, not knowing that in Brooklyn a corps of lawyers are battling to deprive her of the money.

All she knows is that the wealthy American, whose protegee she had been because of her beauty, said that she would get $50,000 within thirty days after his death, and the month has slipped by.

James Stanley Connor was the son of the second wife of John Anderson, who was the wealthy tobacco manufacturer of Brooklyn. Fifteen years ago he went to live at Florence and some years later his mother deeded to him the property she had inherited at the death of Anderson. Connor left an estate worth more than $300,000. In Florence he saw Caterina as she came riding into the city one day on a peasant's cart, and she became his model. She was a child of fifteen then. For ten years they were almost constant companions and when he died in October of last year she nursed him through his death illness.

His will directs that Caterina shall be paid $50,000 within thirty days after his death in addition to receiving all his household and studio effects in Florence. The residue of the property is bequeathed to an aunt, Mrs. Susan Leonard, of Chevy Chase, Washington, D. C. The will was witnessed by Spirito Bernardi, a clerk in the office of United States Consul Cramer, and Charles Lowe, an English banker.

Seven cousins of the deceased, represented by Lawyers Michael Furst and Albert G. McDonald, are contesting the will on the unique grounds that it was attested to by the witnesses in accordance with English law and not according to the laws of New York State.

Surrogate Church sent Henry Sheldon to Florence as a commissioner to find out by what formula the witness had affixed their signatures.

Yesterday was the last luncheon of the season at Ebell and proved to be one of the most delightful events of the club year. Mrs. Newton Koser had charge of the musical program and among the splendid selections, the violin solo played by Miss Mary A. Baldwin, pupil of Harding Kennedy, was an artistic feature. The complete program was as follows: (a) "Idyll," (b) Waltz, "D'Amour" (Louis Rie), Mrs. Arthur Moore, Miss Louise Hagar, and two pianos; songs (a) "Nymphs and Fawns" (Bernberg), (b) "The Sweetest Flower that Blooms" (Rogers), Miss May Gilmour; violin solo, "Legende" (Carl Bohm), Miss Mary A. PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Hardy are spending a few weeks at Gilroy.

The so-called breakfast foods made of wheat, oats, corn or rice, have lately come into very popular favor and the number of them is rapidly increasing. They are attractive and palatable, affording a pleasing variety, and because of special treatment in manufacture, often including partial cooking, their preparation for the table is very materially simplified, and so they are economical in so far as they save time and labor. The kinds and quantities of nutrients in the different varieties depend upon the composition of the cereal from which they are made. The differences in nutritive value of similar brands from the same cereal are insignificant. Generally speaking, they are all wholesome and valuable, according to a Government expert, and when reasonable in price are, most of them, economical sources of nutrients and energy as compared with meats or green vegetables.

For freckles, tan or sunburn, occasioned by exposure in riding or other outdoor exercise, our ancestresses used a healing lotion made very simply and easily. The white of an egg was shaken to a froth with a small quantity of lemon juice. To a tumbler of this mixture a teaspoonful of borax was added. This acted as a whitening wash, which allayed the burning irritation caused by the wind.

For wear with an odd skirt there are mercerized cotton materials having a satin stripe and Dresden pattern. These, if trimmed with lace and made with elbow sleeves, make most becoming waists. Mercerized cottons which have all the effectiveness of silk mousseline are sold at 30 cents a yard and are thirty-four inches wide. They are sheer and light, with dots or sprigged patterns in self color. Gray, pink, green, blue, lavender, vermillion and jonquil yellow are shown.

The medicinal value of the dandelion is well known. It purifies the blood.

THE SECRET OUT

Truth is Unshackled.

To refute the many false and malicious attacks, bogus formula and other untruthful statements published concerning Dr. Pierce's world-famed family medicine, the Doctor has decided to publish all the ingredients entering into his Favorite Prescription for women and his equally popular tonic alternative known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Hereafter every bottle of these medicines, leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, will bear upon it a full list of all the ingredients entering into the compound. Both are made entirely from native roots, barks and herbs. The ingredients of the Golden Medical Discovery being Golden Seal Root, Queen's Root, Stone Root, Wild Cherry Bark, Mandrake Root, Blood Root. The Favorite Prescription is prepared in a similar manner from Blue Cohosh Root, Lady Slipper Root, Unicorn Root, Golden Seal Root and Rattleweed Root, these ingredients being macerated for a long time in a non-alcoholic menstruum. The exact working formula for making these medicines cost Dr. Pierce and his Collaborating Chemist and Pharmacist many years of study and experiments, but as perfected they produce almost perfect pharmaceutical compounds embodying all the active medicinal principles residing in the ingredients employed, and this, in such form and combination as to keep unchanged in any climate. Thus the use of alcohol is entirely avoided in their manufacture and instead an agent is employed which possesses valuable medicinal properties, being a demulcent, anti-ferment and nutritive.

Women suffer in girlhood from backache, spine-ache and headaches, followed by irregularities painful or disagreeable, and as a result diseases of the womanly organs are more common than any one but a physician in active practice could suppose. It is often the result of days of girlhood passed in overcrowded public schools, or worse, in a jail-like boarding school for young ladies. The brain is crowded, indigestible foods disturb the stomach, the body does not get healthful growth, and the undeveloped woman leaves school to plunge into social dissipation, followed only too closely by the taking up of wifely duties and responsibilities towards a husband who has only noticed her beautiful face. The woman suffering from continued nervousness, weariness, wakefulness, headache and backache, needs the advice of a physician of large experience. Perhaps the physician of the largest experience in the disease of women is Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. The young wife desiring the advice of a physician and younger single women, we should advise to write at once to Dr. Pierce, who will treat their correspondence as strictly confidential, and give them an intelligent medical opinion of their cases without cost.

PUBLIC MUST BEWARE OF COLLEGE CLERK.

Merchants' Exchange Listens to Exposition of the Art of Selling a Customer Goods.

Does the average clerk or salesman know that he can make nine out of every ten persons buy of him did he but know the trick? Well, he can and those keen-eyed financiers that make up the directorate of the Merchants' Exchange are preparing to inaugurate the system in their places and sell just twice the amount of goods they are at the present time. There are some old timers in the Merchants' Exchange and they grinned all over when they had exploited the mistakes their clerks are constantly making in their efforts to sell goods, by a man who knows the business.

Last night's meeting was addressed by W. C. Buffington, who is out on this coast with A. F. Sheldon of Chicago, one of the best salesmen in the United States, who has reduced the art of selling goods to a science and perfected and elaborated a system whereby any man may be made worth double to his employer by taking the cure at so much "per" and learning his business.

There was no question that Buffington knew what he was talking about and he gave the assembled merchants a little illustration of what he had to say about their own business somewhat after this style:

"Perhaps you all know that there is a knack in making a trade. Men who have studied what it is that makes a success in the selling line have discovered:

"First—Then there are four elements in a bargain—the buyer, the seller, the article to be sold and the working of two minds.

"Second—There are four stages or progressive steps through which the mind of the purchaser passes. Attention leads to interest, interest to desire and desire to a sale.

"Let us look at this for a moment. You have, say, a trunk to sell. You are clerk is asked to show a customer a trunk and he takes the trunk down, opens the lid, takes out the drawers and that is about as far as he goes. The customer is not much impressed, and he says, 'Well, I don't have to go for a day or so, and I will come back.' You and I know that he never will and that the money is going out of the store and the man wants the goods and you have them.

"Now what that clerk should have done? He should know the points of the goods he sells. When he felt that the customer was going his knowledge should have come to his rescue. He should have said, 'Do you see that lock? It is the finest lock made by the Yale people; it is the height of the lock-making art. That canvas is made by one of the greatest manufacturing firms in the country; its mills and washhouse cover a square mile of land. The wood that this trunk is made of is the finest seasoned oak cut from the primal forests.

"By knowing the points of your goods you are able to talk about them. You fasten the attention of the buyer, then arouse his interest which turns to desire and before you have exhausted your talk nine out of ten people will buy. The psychological moment of the trade arrives when his desire for the article overbalances his hold on his money and you sell him the article.

"Such is the inside process of making a sale laid bare. The most successful men in the trade today may know nothing of our system but without knowing it are unconsciously following it out. They may not know just how they do it themselves but the plan is there.

"There is another point I just wish to mention. So many clerks throw out negative suggestions. 'You don't want any of these, do you?' was a remark addressed to me the other day and I said, 'old man you are right, I don't. This was too easy. You want to make it as hard as possible for a person to say no. That clerk should have said, 'We have some very fine spring neckwear; the latest cut and I am sure you would like to see it. I could not have refused to look at it and then by knowing the points of the goods he was handling he might have sold it to himself but the plan is there.

Such in brief was the outline of the scheme in the art of selling. The speaker demonstrated pretty conclusively to the merchants there that he knew what he was talking about and also that the points he made were just such mistakes as are being made in their stores every day. He also spoke of the argumentative clerk who often wins the argument over an article and loses the sale. He pointed out that by assenting and then quickly drawing the attention off to a good point the objection is lost sight of and the sale is made.

There was no out and out endorsement given by the Exchange last night, as the members want to find out whether the brick offered is the real stuff or only a glued cube, but a resolution was passed in which it was stated that the matter commended itself to the Exchange and that the subject would receive attention and further action would be taken. Some of the oldest merchants in San Francisco, taking lessons, so it is said, in the new art which will make the best clerk one of the best by changing his system and putting him on the right track. The big houses are making arrangements to have their clerks take the course and when the "college clerks" are thoroughly spread out over the country the long suffering public will have to quit shopping and stay at home for fear of spending its money for something that it does not want and which the peddler will be denied a look-in.

REGENTS MEET AND DISCUSS THE BUDGET FOR ENSUING YEAR

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—At the meeting of the Regents of the University of California, held yesterday afternoon at the Mark Hopkins Institute of Art, consideration of the budget for the coming year was held in executive session and the exact figures and allotments will not be made public until later in the week, though it was given out that the estimated income will be $923,916.15, and the estimated disbursements $934,089.25, leaving an estimated deficit of $10,173.10. It is said that this discrepancy may be offset by holding allotments down and by an increase in values of properties. A rough segregation of disbursements was given as salaries $477,262.99 and running expenses of departments and administration $466,826.25.

Among the sources of income the following figures were given out: State bonds, $48,000; interest on diverted funds, $6,785; interest on mortgages, $102,581; stocks, $2,435; rent from Johnson and Sacramento buildings, $45,500; rents from other properties, $3,930; students' fees, $34,797; summer session fees, $13,000; University Extension, $4,500; from United States, $10,000; sale of agricultural products, $2,700; State U. of C. 2-cent tax, $296,000; annual gifts, $5,207; Carnegie Institute, $4,000; Mrs. Hearst, $3,500; Mrs. Hearst's scholarship, $2,400; State appropriation, $184,000; donation of Dr. Loeb's receipts, $2,500; receipts from departments, $21,000; Wilmerding School, $25,772.

Before going into executive session the Regents gave their attention to hearing and considering the reports and recommendations of the president of the University, Benjamin E. Wheeler, and of the various committees.

The most animated discussion of the afternoon was given to the obligation resulting from the recommendation that a bill of mandamus be brought against the State Board of Examiners by the attorney of the Regents to the end that the Regents might draw immediately upon "special apportionment" the within the formality and delay of such funds passing through the hands of the State Controller and State Board of Examiners. It was decided to refer the matter to the attorney of the board.

Young Girls

Avoid The Dangers and Sufferings of Womanhood

Many a girl who graduates from high school or female college with a brilliant record and high standing is broken down before she is twenty.

Nowadays girls are pushed to the limit of their endurance both in school and society. They must make a success—even if they are forever unfitted for the larger school of life and debarred from wedded happiness and the bliss of motherhood.

At this time of life, when just entering upon womanhood, nature makes heavy drains upon the vitality, especially at each monthly period.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

the most wonderful of all tonic restorative medicines for women, will tide a young girl over this trying time and bring her safely into strong, noble, beautiful womanhood.

Experience of a Beautiful High School Girl

My Dear Mrs. PINKHAM:—I write to see if you can suggest some means to cure me. A little more than a year ago I was sick with menstruation for the first time, and since then I have been sick all the time in some way or other and suffered with painful and irregular menstruation. I went to a summer resort for my health and was doctored all summer, but to no effect. I have not menstruated for two months and thought I would see if you could do me any good. I attend High School and would not like to miss any time if it is possible. MARION BARBER, North Adams, Mass.

Miss Barber writes again after two years

My Dear Mrs. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you for advice, being troubled with irregular and painful menstruation and womb diseases. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and using the Sanative Wash, and I am glad to say I am completely cured and have not had any sickness since. I wish to thank you for your kind advice and shall recommend your medicine to my girl friends. MARION BARBER, 101 Bracewell Ave., North Adams, Mass.

Free Advice for Young Girls

All young girls are earnestly urged to write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Thousands of women are well, strong, and beautiful to-day because they made a confidant of Mrs. Pinkham and followed her instructions at this critical time of their lives.

FREE WATER FOR CHILDREN

CONCESSION BY CONTRA COSTA WATER COMPANY TO LITTLE LOCAL PLANTERS.

There will be no scarcity of water when next the planting, by children of the public schools, is to be carried on in a dozen or more lots of this city, in which the seedling for the present year has already been effected.

This will be because of the offer of the Contra Costa Water Company to supply the liquid used about the grounds and to do it without charging anything.

This planting of flowers, shrubs and vegetables by little ones has been carried on for some time under the auspices of the Women's Civic Improvement Club, but no small amount of annoyance has been experienced because water could not be procured for irrigating purposes.

F. A. Leach Jr. of the Board of Trade, and representing the Women's Civic Improvement Club, recently called on Secretary McGary of the Contra Costa Water Company to talk over the subject.

The result has been that the children botanists have been given permission by the Contra Costa Water Company to use such water as may be needed for their planting and that this water may be drawn without expense from the taps nearest the experimental stations.

NOT FROM HOLY SEE.

ROME, May 10.—The Vatican has issued a communication stating that the mission of Rt. Rev. Francis Albin Symon, titular Archbishop of Attalia to the United States, is not from the Holy See.

Archbishop Symon, it has been stated, is coming to the United States to investigate the condition of the Polish Catholics in this country. The Polish prelate's envoy was taken as a result of the desire of the Polish Catholics to have priests of their own nationality elevated to places in the American hierarchy. The plan has been combatted by the English-speaking Bishops.

STRIKERS ARE BOLD.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Russian strike movement has spread to Paris, according to a Times' special cable, a band of Cossacks employed in an American "Wild West" show having struck for higher wages. They were turned by the management into the streets and were refused reinstatement.

The strike leaders are said to have threatened consequences who hesitated to join them, declaring that their homes would be burned and their families massacred after their return to Russia.

HAVE GONE TO EUROPE.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

Sends a Telegram to Mitchell Offering to Bet Him Any Part of $5,000.

Says That He Will Fight Even if Sullivan Tips the Scales 400 Pounds.

Meet in 20 Round Contest at Grass Valley.

Winner Fights Louie Long

TACOMA, Wash., May 10.—The News today says: John L. Sullivan's representative is here to close a match with Charley Mitchell. The following telegram was sent from here to Mitchell:

Charles W. Mitchell, pugilist, San Francisco: My representative is here to sign articles of agreement. I will not deposit $1000, but will bet you any part of $5000. I will be on hand when time is called. Will put up $1000 with Considine as a bet at once if you do the same. JOHN L. SULLIVAN.

Charley Mitchell, when seen in San Francisco, said:

I do not think this is on the square, for the dispatch does not say where Sullivan is nor who his manager is. But I will meet Sullivan before I have provided he wants to fight. I have deposited $1000 with Considine and now let Sullivan cover it. I will fight him the best of six rounds and bet him what he likes. I don't care if he weighs 400 pounds. I have gone the route myself, but I think I can show any of those old fellows up.

SEATTLE, May 10.—John L. Sullivan, for twelve years champion of the world, is now on his way to Seattle to prepare for his battle with Charley Mitchell in Tacoma. Willie Green, of Tacoma, who is promoting the affair, left yesterday for Spokane to meet his old-time friend, the former champion, and get his signature to a contract.

When the match was first talked of, it was regarded as a big joke all over the country. Since then, however, it has dawned upon some that a meeting between the two old champions would be about the biggest card in the country as a money maker, and it is understood that Mitchell has signified his willingness to meet his old-time foe. It is now up to Sullivan, and as the first proposition for a match came from John, he will lose no time in signing up.

The fight itself will be a joke, of course, but as an attraction it will be the biggest thing pulled off in years.

Willie Green proposes to have a ring pitched in the ball park, and have the fight take place some afternoon. Big money will be made off the moving pictures of this fight, and one firm has already sent to New York for 20,000 feet of film to take the pictures of the old gladiators.

For the benefit of the pictures, the fight should go ten rounds at least. This could be done by making the rounds of two minutes each, with about four minutes' rest between, so the two fat men would not be worn out by their exertions. Mitchell will have all the better of it, so far as condition is concerned, for he never was as big as John, and he has always taken better care of himself. Besides he is working every day on the road with Jabez White, and is in good shape for a man of his age. John weighs close to 300 pounds.

It is estimated that the picture privilege alone for this go will be worth $40,000, for they would make a bigger hit than any prize fight pictures shown since the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight. John needs the money, and as Mitchell is not averse to making expenses while he is in this "bloomin' country," there is now a good chance for Willie Green's dream to come true. Such a go will bring to Tacoma sporting men from all parts of the country, for it will be the funniest thing ever pulled off in a ring.

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 10.—John L. Sullivan, who is en route to Seattle, Wash., addressed the convicts in the State Penitentiary here recently by their special request and consent of the Warden.

"You are down and out now," he told the fellows in stripes, "but most of you will get another chance. Get ready to make the most of it."

"I'm the only man in the United States who has made a million dollars honestly," was one of John L.'s modest cracks.

Sullivan talks seriously of his coming match with Mitchell.

Fred Landers and Joe Angeli will meet at Grass Valley this evening for a twenty-round bout.

They are matched to fight at 155 pounds under the auspices of the Nevada Athletic Club.

The battle will be refereed by Ed Smith.

According to the articles of agreement the fight is for a substantial side bet and 50 per cent of the receipts of the box office.

There is an understanding that the winner will be given a chance to fight Louie Long of this city.

A meeting is scheduled this afternoon between Battling Nelson and the Britt brothers. If an understanding can be reached the Dane and the Native Son will sign articles for a contest to be held in San Francisco in July.

When Willie Britt and Nelson met last Saturday at Corbett's much of the time was spent in useless wrangling, in personal abuse and recriminations from both sides, which did nobody any good.

If both are disposed to sign articles—and from what has happened there is no reason to believe that they are not—the whole transaction should not occupy more than a half hour.

With the match bound, either by forfeit or by the actual signing of articles, the outlook for the fighting game here in the town where it flourishes most will be much more alluring.

No club has as yet been mentioned with regard to the match, so the question of "Jimmy's bit" has not been sprung. Nelson will hold out today for a 65 per cent portion of the receipts as the fighters' share, claiming that the match is worth that to any promoter. Since the larger the fighters' share the better it will be for Britt as well as the Dane, there should be no objection from the Californian on that score.

The tremendous ovation accorded Nelson the other night at the Britt-White fight leaves no doubt in the mind of any sane person as to his being a "card." He is a tremendous attraction in himself, and, linked with Britt, will help to make up the best match offered the public in recent years.

JOE ANGELI, who will fight Fred Landers tonight at Grass Valley—Edward Smith will referee the fight.

Metropolitan Turf Association Broken

Can No Longer Control Betting Ring

NEW YORK, May 10.—Arbitrary methods of dealing with bettors, syndicate prices and an attempt recently to dominate the betting ring, have resulted in the practical wiping out of special privileges heretofore enjoyed by the Metropolitan Turf Association, composed of bookmakers on the race tracks about New York.

At a conference attended by representatives of all the New York racing associations, it was decided there should be no further dealings with the men of the betting rings.

Hereafter the grounds will be open to all, and any bookmaker who can establish his financial integrity, and who desires to make a book on the races may do so.

For several years the Metropolitan men have controlled the entire space of the "big ring," and each week its members drew lots for positions.

Non-members were not permitted to do business except on a line behind the "big ring," although many of them were perhaps more responsible financially than some members of the Metropolitan Association.

Those in control of the racing plants have decided, however, in view of the loud complaints and recent friction, to make the "big ring" an open affair to a certain extent and the Metropolitan members will have nothing to say in the future as to drawing lots for positions.

The Turf Association is a close corporation of two hundred memberships. Admission has always been by ballot, and by the purchase of a retiring member's "button." Prices for these have ruled over $5,000 for a year or two, but when news of the action by the track authorities became known, there was a quick drop to $1,500, at which figure one membership was sold.

RIFLE AND REVOLVER SHOOT BY CABLE

NEW YORK, May 10.—Rifle and revolver shooters are practicing for a match with French experts, to be held this month by cable. The Americans will shoot at Greenville, N. J.

Results from here will be cabled to Paris, and results from there will be cabled to this country.

The American team will be composed mostly of members of the Manhattan Rifle and Revolver Club, of this city. They are now being chosen by competition.

The conditions of the match call for fifteen men to a team, each man to shoot forty shots with the rifle at two hundred yards on the French target and forty shots at fifty yards on the standard American target, with the revolver.

There are no restrictions on revolver, sights, ammunition or trigger pull, except that no set triggers are allowed on revolvers.

WANT TO HOLD WHITE MAY OUTLAW BOYS CARNIVAL OF FIGHTS AND HORSE TRAINERS

RENO, Nev., May 10. Al Livingston, promoter of the famous Fitzsimmons-Corbett fight at Carson City a few years ago, and Joe Egan, formerly manager of Jeffries, are in this city arranging for a little carnival here during the first week in July.

They are endeavoring to arrange a fight between Marvin Hart and Jack Root, or Fitzsimmons and one of the heavyweights, and also between lightweights, possibly Britt and Nelson. The promoters are backed by the wealthiest sports of Reno, and a finish fight in Reno on July 4 is now nearly assured.

Mr. Livingston stated last evening that the fight would be conducted on the same lines as the Corbett-Fitzsimmons championship fight and that the event would take place in a large arena, built especially for the purpose.

At Recreation Park yesterday the champion St. Mary's ball team buried the poor Japs from Waseda University.

The cause of it all was "too much Ferguson." Fourteen of the "little brown men" went out "on strike," and but one of them succeeded in pushing the ball beyond the infield.

The college boys' superior knowledge of the game put them on easy street in the early stages of the game, and the latter half gave them good practice.

The score at the close of the game was sixteen tallies for St. Mary's, while the Japs failed to score.

Oakland now has second place in the scramble after the 1905 race, with San Francisco a close third.

There were thirteen of Morley's men in the game yesterday and the official scorer had an awful time keeping track of the changes.

Dillon, Smith and Flood were given orders to sit on the bench when they had the nerve to question Judge Perrine's decisions.

H. Goodwin was on the bill for Morley for six innings. He was touched up for nine singles and then gave way to Torrey.

Hahn delivered slow ones for Van Halton and then when he had the game stored away he got a pain in his side and relinquished his job to Dr. Moskman.

Before Flood took his seat by order of Perrine, he shook hands with the little referee and then shook hands with himself because it was no worse.

Out of eleven hits, the Oaks manufactured seven runs. Five hits and two runs were made off Goodwin in the fifth period.

Umpire Perrine looks awful small when half the Los Angeles bunch gathers about him to protest. He hands it to them, however, even if he isn't in the heavy-weight class.

JOE CHOYNSKI HIT JEFF HARDEST

CHICAGO, May 10.—James J. Jeffries, upon the verge of his retirement from the ring and stage, and his entrance upon a business career in Los Angeles, talked of the men he has met in the ring.

He gave Fitzsimmons credit for being the craftiest fighter and hardest hitter of them all. Corbett was the best boxer, but he had no force to make his blows effective.

"He must have hit me a hundred times when he fought me, but the effect was as though a woman had slapped me in the face," Joe Choyinski gave me the stiffest jolt I ever received when I fought him in California. I saw stars, but it did not even make me groggy."

Jeffries shows only one scar from his experience in the fighting game, and that is a bad ear. He said he got that from Van Eusik, who was the champion of the Olympic Club in San Francisco, whom he put out in two and a half rounds.

"Who was the softest pugilist you ever fought?" the champion was asked.

"Oh, everybody knows that, Munroe was a pudding. I ought to have put him out in less than one round; in fact, the first punch. I knocked him over, and I knew that they shortened up a round when I was ready to turn the trick. When he came up for the second round I stepped over and handed him his."

Jeffries said that the most money he ever made out of a fight was with Sharkey at Coney Island, when his share was $40,700. This battle went twenty-five rounds to a decision. He said that when he fought Munroe he made less than $2000.

Jeffries is said to have laid away more money than all the fighters put together.
